Food spurs price index rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The consumer price index rose by 0.4 per cent in December, the first full month under President Nixon's Phase II economic controls, the government said today.

The Labor Department said it was the biggest increase since the wage-price freeze was imposed in August.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) said almost two-thirds of the increase was caused by higher prices for food, especially fresh vegetables which are exempt from price controls. The index for food in supermarkets jumped 1.3 per cent last month, more than twice its normal increase for December.

The price index for nonfood commodities remained unchanged, despite a 0.7 per cent increase in new-car prices and other increases for gasoline and reading materials. These higher prices were offset by a sharp 2.1 per cent decline in used-car prices and smaller decreases for tires, clothing, some toilet goods and over-the-counter drug items.

The over-all increase for December, which was twice the 0.2 per cent advance for November, reflected the expiration of the 90-day freeze Nov. 11 and the initial impact of the Phase II controls that permit some limited price increases.

The BLS said the cost of living increased only 3.4 per cent for all of 1971, down sharply from the 5.5 per cent increase for 1970 and the 6.1 increase in 1969, the first two years of President Nixon's term.

The price index for services increased 0.3 per cent, with higher charges for household services such as gas, electricity, telephone rates and property taxes accounting for almost three-fourths of this increase.

The BLS said that in the four months after the wage-price freeze was imposed in August, the consumer price index rose at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 2.4 per cent, although increasing at twice this rate in December. During the six months from March through August the index increased at an annual rate of 4.1 per cent.

Nixon asks law to end dock strike

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (UPI) — President Nixon today asked Congress for emergency legislation to force a settlement in the West Coast dock strike which he said has been festering for over a year, because a few have been insensitive to the harm they are inflicting upon the many.

The President asked Congress to act upon his request no later than by the end of next week.

Nixon proposed that Congress give him the power to set up a three-man arbitration board which would look into the merits of the dispute, and within 40 days, dictate a settlement which would be binding upon all parties.

Let there be no mistake about the urgency of this legislation," the President told Congress. "This is a vital matter to the people of this country and the nation can afford no delay."

The President's proposed legislation was in the form of a joint resolution, instead of a normal bill which might take longer for the Congress to consider. Nixon acknowledged in his message to Congress that this is an unusually pressing request for the opening days of a new session.

The proposed legislation would make the arbitration board's findings binding on all parties to the dispute for 18 months.

The strikers would be forced to return to their jobs the moment the joint resolution reached the President's desk and before the arbitration board got to work.

British Commons OK's mart entry

LONDON (UPI) — The House of Commons gave final approval Thursday for Britain to join the European Common Market.

Prime Minister Edward Heath will sign a treaty in Brussels Saturday making Britain a member, even though the membership will not become effective until Jan. 1, 1973.

Heath cleared the last hurdle to Britain's entry into the federation by getting two affirmative votes in parliament.

The first house vote Thursday was a 298-277 decision to reject a Labor opposition bid to postpone signing the treaty until the full English language text had been presented to parliament.

The second was a 296-276 vote to accept a government pledge to present the text to parliament as soon as the treaty is signed.

Business controls to stick

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Treasury Secretary John B. Connally has warned representatives of the nation's largest business firms that economic controls will stay on until business does more to curb inflation.

Connally gave 1,200 businessmen a talking to Thursday at a special price control seminar. He said business had not responded well enough to the administration's steps to defend the profit system, force an international monetary settlement and push a pro-business investment tax bill through Congress.

So what have you done with it? The Treasury secretary asked. "Nothing."

In a good-natured speech that brought frequent chuckles, Connally said business is expected to increase capital spending for plants and equipment by an estimated 9 per cent in 1972. He said that was not too great a figure considering companies would have the benefit of the 7 per cent investment tax credit. Connally said controls would stay on "so long as it's necessary to bring inflation down."

But if you're not in a hurry, they'll be around for some time, I'll tell you," Connally said. "They're on now. We bit the bullet."

Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. earlier mentioned the possibility of prolonged, stricter and even permanent controls if the present program does not appear to be meeting Nixon's goal of cutting inflation in half by the end of this year.

Grayson said the real key to cutting inflation is higher productivity, which would make both management and the work force more efficient.

Rhodesia riots claim 8 lives

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — Rhodesian security forces shot and killed eight blacks today on the sixth consecutive day of antigovernment rioting in five towns across the nation, police sources said.

Sources at the Mozambique border town of Umtali said eight blacks died and 14 were wounded in rioting which resumed after an apparent lull Thursday night.

"They said the rioters tore on a stretch of the local railway line, snarling incoming train traffic. Passengers were transferred to buses."

The nation of five million blacks, ruled by the 250,000 whites, awaited an explanation from Premier Ian Smith, who scheduled a nationwide radio and television broadcast later today.

Umtali police said they fought the crowds back into the black quarter of Sakubva with rifle shots and tear gas and cordoned it off. They said the rioters stoned cars belonging to both white and fellow blacks and mobbed several shoppers late Thursday afternoon.

Auto theft ring broken

NEW YORK (UPI) — U.S. Attorney Robert A. Morse announced today the indictment of 71 men as alleged members of a eight-state-to-ten-state auto theft ring.

Morse said the ring was responsible for the theft of at least 1,000 — and possibly as many as 3,000 — late model luxury cars during a two-year period.

The ring was broken in exchange for the ransom, two parachutes and a crash helmet, and ordered the plane to fly toward Denver. He lowered a door underneath the airplane's tail and bailed out from 12,000 feet over wheat-covered flatlands of northeastern Colorado. But when he hit the ground about 80 miles from Denver, he sprained his ankle and his wrist.

"We tracked him for half a mile," an FBI agent said. "We followed the footprints he left in the snow and mud." The $50,000 was recovered.

His attempt was almost identical to the unsolved Pacific Northwest hijack last Thanksgiving eve for $200,000 ransom. That skyjacker, who signed aboard as D. B. Cooper, bailed out between Seattle and Reno at 6,000 feet and escaped.

The FBI said Thursday's hijacker used the alias "John Shane" when he boarded the flight at Las Vegas.

Two Air Force F-4 fighter-bombers chased the Hughes jetliner Thursday and one of the pilots said he saw the man on the ground.

"I spotted the hijacker when he touched the ground," said Lt. Col. Edward Satterfield of Painesville, Ohio. "He got up, saw us above, and threw a brief case in the air. I don't know if it was in disgust at being followed or what."

FBI agents and area law officers found the young man lying in a field of high grass, 13 miles from the nearest town, Akron, Colo., population 1,890. The man was wearing cowboy boots and a Western shirt.

He gave up without a fight 5 hours and 50 minutes after the drama began. He was not armed.

The air pirate was hospitalized overnight in good condition in Sterling, about 25 miles from where he landed. Doctors X-rayed him and found he had no broken bones — just the two sprains. Logan County Hospital officials said the man was polite but not informative.

Church rips slow Vietnam pullout

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Democratic party spokesman charged today that President Nixon has prolonged the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam at the cost of 20,000 American lives.

Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, appearing on a nationally televised rebuttal to Nixon's State of the Union message, declared the United States will "stay chained to this senseless war" unless Nixon is replaced as president.

He acknowledged that Nixon will have withdrawn nearly all U.S. ground troops from Southeast Asia by next November.

However, Church commented: "But that withdrawal, from start to finish, could have been completed within nine months."

Instead it's being drawn out over four agonizing years, during which 20,000 more young Americans have been killed and 100,000 maimed and wounded."

"The end of the war is not even in sight," Church said. "Neither is the end of the bombing, which is no longer limited to Vietnam, but now extends to Laos and Cambodia as well."

Another member of the nine-man panel, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of Texas, charged that in 1968 Nixon made "huge promises designed to make Americans believe that all of the answers could come from the White House—that the crime problem would be solved if only he became president. "It has not been solved, of course," Bentsen added. "Crime rates have continued to rise under this administration. The empty promises of the past have become the failures of the present."

The Democrats' assessment of Nixon's state of the union message was led by speaker Carl Albert.

With live coverage from the three television networks, the Democrats opened their noon EST program to questions from viewers and the studio audience in a telecast titled "Your Voice Counts."

Death trial asked

LEWISTON, Idaho (UPI) — A 25-year-old local man has been bound over to Second District Court on first degree murder charges in the bombing death last Thursday of a local police officer.

Fred W. Hokenson was charged with the death of Officer Ross Flavel, 24, during an attempted robbery of a local drugstore the night of Jan. 13. Flavel was a former Richfield resident.

Officers said a man answering Hokenson's description entered the store carrying a sack and claiming it contained a bomb.

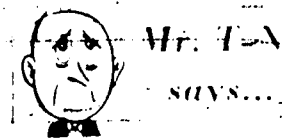

Malta talks stall

ROME (UPI) — British and Maltese negotiations for a new defense agreement deadlocked today, because Prime Minister Dom Mintoff of Malta still is unhappy about the financial arrangements, diplomatic sources said.

The sources said Mintoff demanding an immediate cash payment for use of military facilities but that Britain said no money would be forthcoming until Mintoff signed at least the broad outlines of an agreement.

Maltese sources said Mintoff urgently needs an infusion of cash to pay outstanding wages.

Bliss reservoir study approved

BOISE, ID. — A reconnaissance study of a proposed reservoir project to irrigate some 2,000 acres of Bliss was approved Thursday by the Idaho Water Resource Board.

Board Assistant Director Vert King said the proposal "appears to be one of the most feasible projects that we have reviewed to date."

The proposal is to divert water from the present Northside Canal to a reservoir site with a storage capacity of from 70,000 to 80,000 acre feet of water.

Hijacker faces piracy charge

DENVER (UPI) — The FBI today identified an air pirate who bailed out of a commandeered Hughes Aircraft DC9 with $50,000 ransom onto flat Colorado wheat fields as Richard Charles LaPoint, 23.

Agents said he "acted odd" and said only: "I want to see a lawyer. LaPoint sprained his left wrist and an ankle on landing Thursday. He was captured by FBI agents, who recovered the ransom he had collected from the flight he hijacked in Las Vegas.

LaPoint was held overnight in jail at Sterling, Colo. His wrist and ankle were put in splints. He was to be transferred to Denver later today to face air piracy charges.

The Air Force said it bugged the two bright orange parachutes given to LaPoint with homing devices to allow easy tracking when he bailed out. The hijacker apparently did not notice them.

Gen. Bruce K. Holloway, the commander of the Strategic Air Command (SAC) said today he hoped fast action by the Air Force would serve to deter future "bailout hijackings."

"We hope this will show how the Air Force can very effectively help in such a situation," Holloway said of Thursday's capture, "and perhaps this will discourage this bailout hijacking technique."

The young, bushy-haired sky-jacker, boarded the Hughes Aircraft DC9 in Las Vegas and commandeered it with a fake bomb before it took off for Reno, Nev. He freed two stewardesses and the 52 passengers in exchange for the ransom, two parachutes and a crash helmet, and ordered the plane to fly toward Denver.

He lowered a door underneath the airplane's tail and bailed out from 12,000 feet over wheat-covered flatlands of northeastern Colorado. But when he hit the ground about 80 miles from Denver, he sprained his ankle and his wrist.

Black Israelites attack brothers

DIMONA, Israel (UPI)—Nearly 400 American Negroes came to Israel hoping to live a life of peace and brotherhood in the Promised Land. It has not worked out.

Fighting broke out among the self-styled Black Israelites Thursday and one man was killed. Twenty Negroes were arrested and, at nightfall, police described the city as tense.

The dead man was identified as Cornell Kilpatrick, 40, a former Chicagoan. Police said he was beaten by five other former Chicago Negroes who resisted his attempt to bring 20 other blacks to settle in Dimona.

Claiming to be direct descendants of the original Israelites, the Negroes began arriving in Israel late in 1969. They settled in Arad, Mitzpeh Rimon and Dimona, in the Negev Desert of southern Israel.

It went well at first, with the colorfully turbaned blacks learning Hebrew and getting along with their rough-hewn but curious Israeli neighbors.

Then it turned sour. The Negroes claimed they were being discriminated against. The Israelis claimed they were troublemakers.

Never having recognized them as citizens, the government began refusing to renew many of the Negroes' tourist visas in effect, serving them notice that they were not welcome.

Thursday, police said, they wore their welcome even thinner. It began at 8 a.m. with the arrival of Kilpatrick and his group from Arad and Mitzpeh Rimon, intent on settling in Dimona where more jobs are available.

Police said Kilpatrick was set upon by five stick-wielding men in one of the cracker-box apartment houses where he was beaten. He died in a hospital in Beersheba.

The five jailed suspects were identified as James Kites, 38, Charlie Clark, 46, Thomas Gluber, 42, and two 25-year-olds identified only as John and Thomas—all of Chicago.

Persisting, Kilpatrick's followers occupied several apartments, only to be thrown out by the resident Dimona Negroes. Those ousted told police the residents had threatened to kill them.

Police raided the apartment blocks and took into custody 14 persons.

Puffing Danes

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—More than 200 tons of pipe tobacco was puffed into the air by Danes every month in 1970, the Tobacco Board reports. The monthly consumption of cigarettes was 500 million, or 100 per capita out of a population of 4.3 million.

TF County participation in health plan queried

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Participation by Twin Falls County in the 1972 financing of the South Central Idaho Health District remained in question today, pending a ruling from the office of Attorney General Anthony Park.

County Commission Chairman William L. Chancey, who is also chairman of the district health board, said the county attorney has appealed to the state attorney general for a ruling on whether or not the county must accept the financial assignment from the district board. Twin Falls County has opposed the $1.66 per capita county by county financing plan approved by the board, on grounds Twin Falls County taxpayers would be carrying more than their share of the cost and would face an unreasonable tax increase.

The Twin Falls County

Commissioners have set a $52,000 tentative budget for public health this year, compared to $35,118 last year. This is $18,000 short of the requested amount on a $1.66 per capita basis.

Dr. Wayne Carte, district administrator, said other counties have budgeted their full amounts on the per capita basis. Board members voted by majority to assess each of the eight participating counties on the $1.66 per capita basis. Twin Falls County's representative, Chairman Chancey, voted against the per capita figure.

Board members approved a $20 permit fee for installation of individual sub-surface sewage disposal units for residents in the district. An individual will be hired on a contract basis to make inspections and issue permits. He will be paid from the fees collected.

Dr. Carte was authorized to appoint legal counsel for the district and announced Tom Nelson has agreed to serve in this capacity.

Board members discussed the proposed districting law and recommended county commissioners and board members contact the legislators of their districts to make their views known.

Board members are on record as favoring state participation in financing in separate districts on a per capita basis rather than a matching fund basis.

Districts such as the south central unit would receive better financial assistance through this method than on a percentage or matching fund system.

Wetness dampens skiing outlook

TWIN FALLS — Wet heavy snowfall has dampened the skiing outlook for the coming weekend with skiers hoping for colder temperatures.

Resorts report new snow ranging from one inch to two feet and most roads are open but snow tires or chains are required.

Soldier Mountain now reports total depths at 44 inches at the top of ski runs and 38 inches at the bottom with only a skiff of new snow. Rain was falling Thursday in Fairfield and snow at the ski resort. Temperatures were between 25 and 35 degrees. The road was reported in good condition but snow tires are required. The area operates Thursday through Sunday.

Pomeroy lists two feet of heavy snow this week with a base of six feet and between eight and ten feet at the top of the ski runs. The road is open but with one-way traffic in some sections. Snow tires or chains are required. Some runs are packed and some are not. Winds are about five miles per hour at the top of the slopes.

Magic Mountain reports two feet of new heavy snow with total depths remaining between seven and eight feet. The road was cleared Thursday and is in good condition but snow tires or chains are recommended. Intermediate and beginner runs are packed. Buses leave both Saturday and Sunday from Lynwood Shopping center at 9 a.m.

Rotarun snow depths are now about 20 inches with one inch of new snow. Temperatures are between 30 and 35 degrees and the road is good but with some icy spots. The area operates Saturday and Sunday and on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 to 10 p.m.

Sun Valley has 51 inches of snow at the top of Blady Mountain and 35 inches at the Roundhouse. The valley floor has 20 inches. About three inches of new snow has fallen this week.

TF tax revenue 69.2% of total

TWIN FALLS — Real property tax collections in Twin Falls County during the collection period ending in December amounted to 69.2 percent of the total 1971 tax bill. Ruth K. Jones, county treasurer and tax collector said today.

Her office received $4.07 million prior to the Dec. 20 deadline with the county's total tax bill on real property this year amounting to $5.89 million. This leaves an unpaid balance of $1.81 million to be collected during the second half payments. Taxpayers who wish may pay only half of their bill by Dec. 20.

Mrs. Jones said first half collections of 69.2 percent represent about the same amount as collected last year at this time. All the collections have now been computed, she said and tax books are in balance. The books will be open for payment of second half tax bills on Monday with current and delinquent payments being accepted. Idaho law requires a two per cent penalty and an eight per cent interest charge on delinquent tax payments. Mrs. Jones said.

Mrs. Jones said 1970 delinquent taxes amount to $41,597.44 and 1969 unpaid taxes total $17,273.20.

First half payments made prior to the Dec. 20 deadline ranged from the largest payment of $275,482.54 from the Idaho Power Co. down to an 18 cent payment by an individual property owner.

Persons who mailed in their payments have been sent receipts by mail and anyone who has not received such a receipt should contact the treasurer's office.

Mrs. Jones said payments this year were steady through the three week period beginning Nov. 22 and continuing through the deadline. Mail payments were heavy during the final week, she said.

Ketchum Rotary benefit scheduled

KETCHUM — Vaudeville acts and dancing to live music will be featured during the second annual Leadville Fun Night Saturday night.

The event will start at 6 p.m. at the David Ketchum American Legion Hall. Sponsored by the Ketchum-Sun Valley Rotary Club, it will benefit the J. W. Fuld Scholarship Fund.

Community singing and an opportunity to win prizes is also planned. Rotary officials said, because of the type of beverage being sold, guests must be 21 years or older to participate. There will be a cover charge.

TF bus service set for jamboree

TWIN FALLS — Senior citizens who wish to attend the Old Time Fiddlers Jamboree Saturday in Filer will be provided free bus service, Ray Pruett, Senior Citizen Agency director, announced today.

The jamboree is sponsored as a benefit program each year for the Twin Falls Chapter American Red Cross. Tickets for the benefit are on sale at the Senior Citizens Agency but transportation will be at no cost.

Persons wishing to attend should call 733-9351 for arrangements. Two 14-passenger buses will be used to transport the senior citizens to the Jamboree. The bus schedule where senior citizens will be picked up include Durvall Courts, 6:30 p.m.; Terry Courts, 6:35 p.m.; Sunny View Courts Recreation Hall, 6:40 p.m.; Just-A-Mere Inn, 6:30 p.m.

Pioneer Square, 6:30 p.m.; Colonial Apartments, 6:40 p.m.; and Canyon Villa Apartments, 6:50 p.m.

Pruett said there will also be a free benefit show Saturday at 3 p.m. at the Sunny View Recreation Hall for the benefit of those who are unable to go to the Filer performance. All senior citizens are invited to attend the afternoon program.

Ammonia leakage

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Fire Department was called Thursday to Meadow field Dairies when a compressor started to leak ammonia.

Firemen said there was no damage.

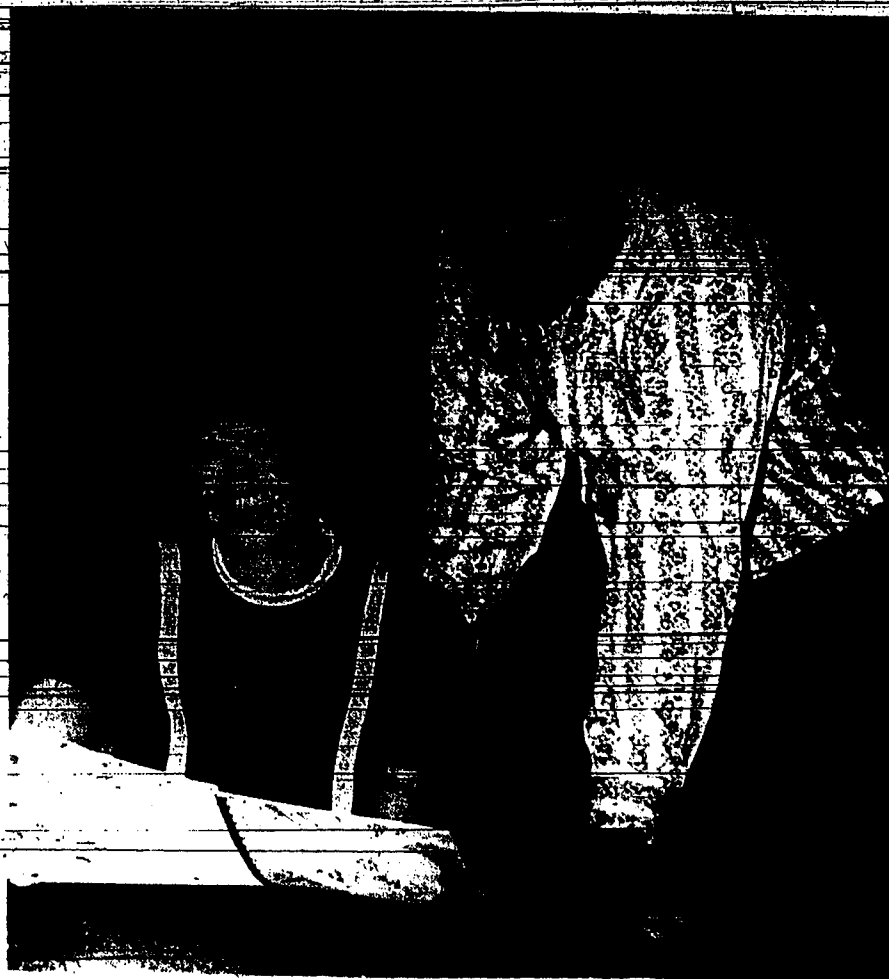

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Jaycees will observe National Jaycee Week with a prayer breakfast at 6 a.m. Saturday at the American Legion Hall.

Jaycees have invited city, county, chamber of commerce officials and members of the clergy to attend the meeting. Rev. Eugene Tjarks will be guest speaker.

Although Jaycee Week ends Saturday, the Twin Falls unit is carrying the observance over until Sunday when they will sponsor a district meeting at the American Legion Hall. Jaycees from Jerome, Gooding, Jerome, Minico, Burley, Buhl, Murtaugh and Twin Falls have been invited.

At a Monday meeting the Twin Falls Jaycees voted to hold a Distinguished Service dinner this year. It has been set for Jan. 31 at the American Legion Hall, with Dr. James L. Taylor, College of Southern Idaho president, as guest speaker. Ray Rostrom, manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce will be master of ceremonies.

Junior and senior awards will be given and the "Boss of the Year" will be honored.

Council leader

NEW PRESIDENT of the Southwestern Idaho Council, Camp Fire Girls, is Jay Depew. He replaces Mrs. Paul Moseley, seated, 1971 president. Under Depew, two southern Idaho councils have merged to form the present Camp Fire Girl group.

Pay as you go

BOSTON (UPI) — Henry I. Keller told a legislative hearing Thursday his bill to "outlaw pay toilets" would make life a little bit happier.

Keller, a researcher at a Boston hospital, said his moral indignation at a company profiting by a person's discomfort makes him climb under the doors of pay toilets "rather than pay the exorbitant charge."

The bill before the committee on commerce and labor was opposed by lobbyist for motel and amusement park associations.

"I wouldn't give a dime for the chance of this bill passing," said one observer.

Completion set for inventory of TF resources

TWIN FALLS — An inventory of recreational facilities and resources in Twin Falls County is expected to be completed by May 1, members of a sub-committee on recreation under the Twin Falls County Planning and Development Committee decided Thursday.

Paul Ostyn, chairman, met with five of the six sub-committee chairmen who will be working on recreation to outline responsibilities. His committee has been asked to assume he said an inventory of what the county has in the way of recreational facilities and opportunities under public and private operation and guidelines on what will be needed for future years is the goal of the committee.

The recreational program is part of the county-wide planning study now underway covering all resources from land and housing to transportation and highways.

Ostyn said there are a total of 17 resource sub-committees working, each with several sub-committees of their own.

Working with Ostyn are Donald Zuck, parks; Tom

Shouse, Filer, fairs and rodeos; Robert Pettygrove, Hansen, fish and wildlife; Mrs. Claude Jones, winter outdoor recreation; Chad Browning, municipal recreation; and Larry Drexler, motorized summer recreation.

Some of the information, such as county parks inventories, have already been collected by existing committees. Items discussed Thursday included expanding use at the county fairgrounds for year around events such as the Miss Rodeo America contest and indoor livestock and horse shows and competitive events by addition of an indoor arena. An indoor ice skating rink somewhere in the county was also suggested.

Each sub-committee chairman will meet with the small group of his own committee members in the near future to begin plans for the inventory. Ostyn will meet with the county commissioners to clarify the time element for future planning and obtain a clearer report on what each committee should do before completing its term of service.

Soviet vessels escorted to Adak

JUNEAU, Alaska (UPI) — Two Coast Guard cutters escorted two Soviet fishing vessels seized for intruding into American fishing waters steamed through the frozen Bering Sea today toward Adak in the Aleutians.

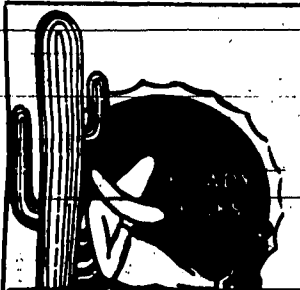

At Anchorage, U.S. Attorney G. Kent Edwards said he had asked the Coast Guard to relay specific information to his office as soon as possible.

"We want to get the details before they dock (at Adak) so we can evaluate them and see if it appears some violation has occurred and action should be taken," Edwards said.

A Coast Guard spokesman at Juneau said the four ships were not expected to arrive at Adak before Sunday, and it could take them even longer to make their way through the Bering ice pack.

Edwards said if evidence indicates Coast Guard charges should be prosecuted, the two Russian commanders would have to be brought to Anchorage and it would be up to the Coast Guard to arrange transportation.

Mental "Sickness" Soviet Catch-All

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Those who thought they saw a trend in the Soviet Union toward human rights must have been shocked by the seven-year Labor Camp sentence plus five years exile given 28-year-old Vladimir Bukovsky.

For Bukovsky's case illustrates Moscow's predilection for putting political protesters in mental hospitals and punishing harshly those who talk too much about this practice.

In 1963, Bukovsky spent 15 months in a mental ward for having two photocopies of "The New Class," a controversial book by Yugoslav author Milovan Djilas. In 1966, he spent nine months in a mental ward for organizing a Moscow demonstration demanding an open trial for writers Andrei Sinyavsky and Yuli Daniel. In 1967, he was sentenced to three years in a labor camp for his part in another demonstration for imprisoned writers.

In March, 1971, Bukovsky was arrested a few weeks after sending abroad an open letter asking that Western psychiatrists investigate his charges that Soviet authorities were using mental hospitals to detain nonconformist intellectuals. He provided 150 pages of documentation.

Bukovsky was held incommunicado for nine months, part of that time in the Serbsky Psychiatric Institute, then charged with "anti-Soviet agitation and propaganda" and sentenced this month (January 1972) in a one-day trial.

It is not known exactly how many sane men and women are in Soviet mental hospitals because of peaceful protest. Men close to the problem have been able to identify 200. Most are with little influence.

Bukovsky, in his stays at special mental hospitals, has estimated that roughly half the patients are political prisoners.

Bukovsky has described some of his fellow mental ward associates. One was a Frenchman so devoted to communism he had emigrated to the Soviet Union, where he found work at a shoe factory.

Disturbed by the low pay, he had urged workers to strike, saying communism would never condemn the working class fighting for its rights. He was sent to the asylum for three years.

Another patient was an Australian Communist, who, becoming disillusioned, had decided to return home. The authorities told him that because of his Latvian origin he was a Soviet citizen and he was put in the asylum for contacting foreign embassies.

The most publicized men sent to mental hospitals for dissenting views are former Maj. Gen. Grigorenko, for 17 years director of research at the prestigious Frunze Military Academy, and Zhores Medvedev, the noted biologist. Grigorenko actively protested Moscow's refusal to allow the Tartars to return to their homeland and strongly opposed the invasion of Czechoslovakia. Medvedev held controversial views on the management of Soviet science. He was released after strong protests by influential scientists.

But most political inmates of mental wards are "little people." Valeria Novodvorska, 19, a student, was committed for distributing leaflets.

Vladimir Borisov signed an appeal to the United Nations and a letter in defense of Grigorenko.

Valery Lukanov, 23, in 1969 put a poster in his window protesting Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia.

G. Shumanov for appealing to Soviet and world opinion to speak against sending sane people to mental hospitals for their dissenting views.

Apparently inmates can get out if they renounce their old views and confess they have indeed been "sick."

Air Service

Obtaining services of a second major airline for Twin Falls will, in reality, be no easy matter.

We are of the opinion at least one of the three airlines contacted in the search for additional flights into and out of Magic Valley will show a favorable reaction. But this fact, although important, is not the big hurdle. The stumbling block is the Civil Aeronautics Board. The board members control the route awards. If they look with favor on the proposal then it is in. If they decide against it, then it is out.

But the first step has been taken. By official action, the request has been approved by the Twin Falls City-County Airport Commission, the Twin Falls City Council and the Twin Falls County Commissioners.

Twin Falls now has a fine airport. It will be even better by next fall when an Instrument Landing System (ILS) is installed through cooperation of the federal government and the ramp and taxiways are re-paved.

Perhaps one of the best and unsolicited bits of praise having to do with the local field came the other day when the first Western Airlines jet from San Francisco landed here. The chief pilot — Capt. Gary L. Guilliat, San Francisco — said, as he was introduced to city and county officials who were members of the welcome committee:

"That runway has to be the best I've ever landed on."

Who Is Howard?

WASHINGTON — There is far more at stake in the Howard Hughes-McGraw-Hill-Life magazine affair than whether Mr. Hughes did or did not sell his autobiography for publication.

The American people, who have been reeling from one credibility crisis to another, are now being asked to decide whether two of the most distinguished publishing companies in this country or one of the richest men in the world are telling the truth.

The evidence is strong on both sides. Howard Hughes in his famous telephone interview says there is not a shred of truth in it. McGraw-Hill and Life both insist they have the real thing and plan to go ahead and publish the autobiography no matter what Mr. Hughes says.

The problem for the public, which up until this time has remained neutral, is that Mr. Hughes is such a mystery man that we don't even know what he looks like any more, and it's causing tremendous paranoia in everyone's home.

For example the other night my family was watching the news, and suddenly Hubert Humphrey came on the screen to announce he was once again a candidate for President.

You know, my wife said, "It's funny, but I get the feeling that that isn't really Hubert Humphrey."

How can you say that? I said, looking closer at the screen.

"Suppose," she said, just supposing, that person was Howard Hughes.

Impossible, I said. I know Hubert Humphrey. That's his voice. Besides why would Howard Hughes want to be Hubert Humphrey?

Nobody knows why Howard Hughes does things," she said. "It would be a perfect disguise for him. Everyone would think he was locked up in the Bahamas, and all the time he would be going around the country making speeches and meeting people and looking for new things to invest in."

"I can't believe it," I said, with my face pressed as close to the screen as I could get.

"Well, we all know Humphrey has no money. It's very interesting that he would announce for President right after Howard Hughes denied he had sold his autobiography."

"I'm sure it's just a coincidence," I said. "You have to come up with something more concrete than that."

had faded from the screen, and after a commercial we were shown films of Sheikh Mujibur Rahman being welcomed in Bangladesh by his supporters.

My wife said, "Did you notice his fingernails?"

"What's wrong with his fingernails?" I said.

"They're short — Howard Hughes said in his press conference that he had short fingernails."

"Lots of people have short fingernails. Wait a minute. You don't think Skeik Mujibur Rahman is Howard Hughes?"

"I'm not saying he is, and I'm not saying he isn't. But look at his hair. Howard Hughes said he cuts his own hair. The sheik looks as if he cuts his own hair, too."

"You're going bonkers," I said.

Well, why didn't he say that he wasn't the sheik in the interview?"

The news program went to another commercial, and then gave an interview with Ralph Nader. I watched my wife carefully. Finally she shook her head and said, "No, he's too young."

The final segment of the show showed pictures of Africa, natives dancing, drums beating and eventually the camera closed in on Mrs. Richard Nixon wearing a native dress and a towering headdress.

My wife sat up in her chair and said, "Of course. Why hadn't I thought of it?"

My God, I cried. You don't think Pat Nixon is really Howard Hughes?"

She just smiled. I'm not ruling it out. Everyone knows the real Mrs. Nixon hates to fly."

ROBERT ALLEN

Welfare Front

WASHINGTON — For obvious electioneering purposes in this year's crucial national balloting, the Democrats have deliberately set the stage for a stormy head-on clash with President Nixon over the enactment of wide-ranging multi-billion-dollar anti-poverty legislation.

Pending unnoticed in the Senate and House are virtually identical bills to extend for another two years the scandal-scarred Office of Economic Opportunity with a huge $6.5 billion budget.

With one major exception, these measures are exactly the same as the one vetoed by the President shortly before Congress adjourned last month.

That exception is a multi-billion-dollar "child development plan" setting up a nation-wide system of child care and training centers.

Originally a separate bill, it was written into the vetoed measure as Title V. The President flatly rejected it as unsound and impractical legislation — and was upheld by the Senate 51 to 36.

But the seeming deletion of the highly controversial Title V is not all it appears to be.

In reality, the Democrats are resorting to subterfuge.

Most of the vetoed child development plan is actually in the new bills — in another form.

What the Democrats have craftily done is to include the plan in the popular Headstart program by greatly expanding that — to incorporate most of the activities and projects contemplated under the discarded Title V.

Obvious intent of this legislative sleight-of-hand is to "sneak over" the child development plan under the favorable cloak of the widely approved Headstart program.

Whether they can get away with this only time will tell.

The Administration has taken no stand on the scheme as yet.

White House and Health, Education and Welfare Department authorities are fully aware of what is going on. They are leaving the next move up to the Democrats — which is an open secret.

The Democrats' strategy is to rush the new bills through the House and Senate Labor Committees quickly in order to enact the embattled legislation early in this session. Purpose of the speed-up is to provide the Democrats with time to produce still other bills in the event the President vetoes the pending versions.

In other words, the aim is to keep the issue alive and to bring as much electioneering out of it as possible.

Revealingly indicative of the close collaboration between House and Senate Democrats on this legislation is the manner in which the pending bills were quietly introduced.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Vasectomy

To Dr. G. C. Thosteson: My husband had a vasectomy operation Jan. 1, 1971. In April, I became pregnant. When my husband was told by the doctor that the tube just grew together, it didn't make too much sense to us.

My husband is 31 and we already had four children, and he had the vasectomy only when the doctor told him it would be permanent. We didn't want another child and I ended up with an abortion.

We were told and believed that once a vasectomy was done, there was no way that the man could father another child. So we have no faith in it now and think it is a cruel trouble and worthless for a man to go through with such nonsense.

Mrs. L. A.

There is such a thing as a vasectomy that is, in fact, creates a new passageway through which the sperm can travel. But it doesn't happen often, and ordinarily it is prevented anyway by removing a section of the vas, or sperm duct.

There is also a possibility, and also rare, of the duct being double instead of single, and if one of them is not cut, then sperm can still pass through.

I have written about vasectomy a number of times in this column, and I think I always added the advice that if it is safe for the husband, after the operation, to go back for tests and not to feel sure that he cannot cause a pregnancy until the tests show no sperm present.

I've had some folks say I am being needlessly cautious about this advice, and that after a few weeks the danger of pregnancy is past.

Your experience seems to indicate that maybe my advice was right after all. Why have the operation without taking the trouble to try to make sure it has accomplished its purpose?

Another word of warning: These follow-up tests aren't required solely for cases in which the operation, for one reason or another, may have failed.

The principal purpose of them is to give the vesicles time to get rid of such sperm as has been stored in them. That is, the vasectomy doesn't provide instant sterilization. You have to allow time for the stored sperm to be discharged. That time varies. The only way to be sure, to the best of my knowledge, is to have a subsequent test, or perhaps more than one, until the test shows absence of sperm.

I'm sorry your experience was so unhappy, but it doesn't make the vasectomy procedure "nonsense" generally.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: If a man is taking 80 units of insulin, what are his chances of changing to diabetes tablets instead? He is handicapped and felt he would prefer tablets rather than depend on someone else to administer insulin — G. B.

You don't mention the strength of his insulin, but generally speaking, if insulin has been found necessary to control a given case of diabetes, switching to oral medication isn't successful. He could talk to his doctor about it, but he shouldn't be disappointed if the doctor says his case isn't suitable for oral medication. Conversion to oral medication may be possible if small (20 units) dosage of insulin is used. With large doses as this, it usually isn't feasible.

MR. SPECTATOR

A School Of Thought

There is a school of thought, one of whose spokesmen is renowned anthropologist Margaret Mead, that is enamored of the idea that the younger generation is totally unlike any generation before it.

Parents, says Mead, born into a much "simpler" world, cannot begin to understand the rapidly changing, technologically oriented world of their children.

We begin to believe this hogwash, until the death of a man like David Sarnoff reminds us that it is, after all, just hogwash.

If ever a man saw his world change at unbelievable speed, it was the founder of the broadcasting industry — and, of course, every person who was his contemporary.

When Sarnoff was born 80 years ago, scientists were "proving" that human flight was an impossibility. Space travel was the purest fantasy. The telephone was still a novelty, wireless was unknown and television not even a dream. Excluding trains, land travel was little different than in the times of Julius Caesar.

All this was to change, fundamentally, completely — almost magically — in one human lifetime.

Is a moon shot really any more amazing than the idea of a man taking off into the air in a clumsy motorized kite? Is atomic energy more awesome than an electric light bulb lit by power from a distant steam generator? Is a computer more impressive than a box that draws voices and music out of the air?

It is the generation now passing from the scene, Sarnoff's generation, which is unlike any generation before it.

And Mr. Spectator says: Don't you forget it!

TODAY'S CHUCKLE

Fantasy is asking a six foot, two inch driver to step into the alley. Reality is locking the door behind him.

FROM THE PAST

An inquisitive Oklahoma newsman recently came up with a recommended course of study published for school teachers in Bartlesville, Indian Territory (now Oklahoma), in 1904. As one might imagine, the school system wasn't much in those days.

High school went to the 10th grade, only one of the nine teachers had as much as a bachelor's degree and the courses available to a high school student were no more than a half dozen a semester.

Most interesting in the teacher's guide were some of the admonitions. First grade teachers were ordered to have pupils "spell words letter-by-letter and then by sound, but do not introduce spelling by sound until spelling by letter has become easy."

On the matter of grading, the booklet said, "Examinations will be held at the close of each month, and the class standing of each pupil shall be determined by his grades — two-thirds in class work and one-third on examinations."

Education potential has been improved considerably since those early days, but the quality of learning can still be enhanced by drawing from some of the early fundamentals.

County must get revenue

BOISE (UPI) — The state attorney general's office said in an opinion today that county commissioners must set levies needed to produce revenue needed for county budgets after deduction of available surpluses.

The opinion also stated that it was the responsibility of the State Tax Commission to review levies authorized under the Idaho code.

The attorney general's office said the budget as filed and the resolution adopting such budget is "a part of the proceedings of the board of county commissioners relating to the levy of taxes."

The county clerk, in preparing a record of levies authorizing and fixed by the board of county commissioners, should include in such record the amounts provided for in the budget to be raised by the levies.

The opinion said in response to the directive of the Idaho Constitution the Idaho Legislature has adopted the county budget law codifying the Idaho code.

The opinion said the State Supreme Court has held the county budget law to be constitutional.

The county budget law specifically set forth the provision for the adoption of a tentative and final budget, the opinion said. "And it is intended to provide taxpayers a public hearing and public review on proposed county expenditures for the fiscal year."

The opinion stated that unless the board determines that surplus funds on hand are committed and are not properly classified as "available surpluses" such monies must be applied to budget expenditures prior to the setting of tax levies.

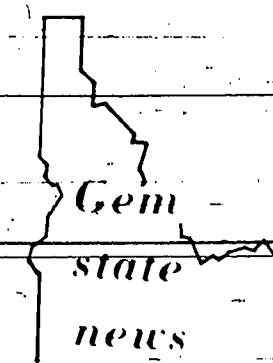

Boise solon may force full reading

BOISE (UPI) — The House considered a criminal code revision bill without reading it in full Thursday, but Rep. John Reardon, R-Boise, did not object. But he claimed he may object later in other cases.

Last week, Reardon told the House he would force full reading of every criminal code revision bill up for final consideration in the House, and would probably extend the reading to certain other technical legislation.

Then he forged reading of a couple of bills in full before they

Educational TV could cut costs of driver training

BOISE (UPI) — State Sen. John Mix, D-Moscow, recommended Thursday that educational television be used to help counteract the rising costs of driver training.

Mix made his proposal at a meeting of the interim highway needs committee of the legislature, a group composed of the joint House and Senate Transportation Committees.

At the suggestion of Sen. Walter Yarbrough, R-Grand View, interim committee chairman, John Sessions, R-Driggs, named Mix chairman of a subcommittee to look into the proposal as well as other driver training problems, including instructional fees, prevent private use of driver training vehicles, standardize financial projections and prevent un-

Tax revenue prediction more than governor's

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
BOISE (UPI) — The House Revenue and Taxation Committee officially forecast general fund revenue from present tax sources at $131 million next year, nearly $1 million more than predicted by the governor.

But the committee found itself unable to agree, or disagree with projections of another $2 million in revenue to the fund by incorporation of inter-county transfers.

Chairman Allan F. Larsen, R-Blackfoot, appointed a subcommittee composed of Reps. William Onweiler, R-Boise, Lester Hartwigsen, D-Malad, and James Elgin, R-Caldwell, to look further into this.

Legislation auditor James A. Defenbach told the committee if anticipated transfer of $2 million from one agent to another for services actually enrich the general fund they should be appropriated.

Because of the present accounting system, he said, he is unable to say how much of this projected revenue comes from dedicated funds and how much from general fund agencies.

Andrus, in his budget message, officially projected general fund revenue of $130,066,000 for the 1972-73 fiscal year. Onweiler's committee came up with an estimate of $130,979.

Rep. Angus Condit, R-Preston, cast the lone dissenting vote on accepting the projection. He said he did not think the committee understood what it was voting on and added he believed members were being a little conservative in our projection.

Onweiler conceded Condit may have a point.

Bill makes theft felony

BOISE (UPI) — The Senate approved 31-2 Thursday and sent to the House a bill to make theft of a captured or domestic animal a third degree felony rather than a misdemeanor.

Sen. Eileen Steen, R-Glenns Ferry, said the new criminal code made a misdemeanor the theft of animals worth $200 or less.

More revenue asked

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Highway Board asked the Legislature Thursday for $5,037,000 in additional revenue — equivalent to a 1 1/2 cent gasoline tax increase — to meet a $73.4 million budget for fiscal year 1973.

Legislators traveled to the highway law enforcement building auditorium to hear State Engineer Ellis Mathes and his staff outline the proposed budget, which includes federal matching money. The current fiscal year budget is $68.8 million.

In his executive budget, Gov. Cecil D. Andrus recommended an additional two cents for the gasoline tax. He said one penny would repay the highway fund for the penny diverted to cities in 1971 and the other would help balance the proposed construction program.

Mathes said total state revenue for fiscal year 1973 to the highway department is estimated at $26.3 million. He said of the total only $5.7 million is available for highway construction.

Gem budget questioned by solons

By LINDY HIGH
BOISE (UPI) — The legislature has had Gov. Cecil D. Andrus' fiscal year 1973 budget in its hands for a week now and most of the revenue raising proposals have been questioned.

The House Revenue and Taxation Committee has even differed with Andrus' estimate of income to the general fund from existing tax sources, the committee pegging its choice at $131 million or $1 million higher than Andrus' figure.

The same thing, of course, occurred in 1971 when Andrus and legislative auditor James Defenbach differed by $2 million on revenue projections.

Acting budget director D. E. "Skip" Chilberg is not surprised at the difference. He said even two very capable economists can make projections and there's going to be a one per cent variance in estimates.

Earlier this week the Revenue and Taxation Committee questioned the exact effect on the average taxpayer of Andrus' proposal to eliminate deduction of federal income tax payments from Idaho income for tax purposes.

Chilberg said he and Clyde Kooz, executive secretary to the state tax commission, spent a portion of Thursday discussing the proposal.

Chilberg said there would be no effect at all for families with incomes of less than $5,000 and only $20 per year for a four-member family with an income of $8,000 or less.

He also noted the $8,000 or less bracket takes in 59.6 per cent of Idaho's households.

From there, of course, the tax bite increases. But Chilberg said elimination of the double deductibility will tend to even out a little bit of the taxpaying effort.

Presently the Idahoan who pays high federal taxes pays lower state income tax because he can deduct the federal payments.

As a result, Chilberg said, someone earning $10,000 will pay an effective Idaho tax rate of four per cent while someone earning $9,000 — and deducting less federal tax payment — will pay an effective rate of seven per cent.

The state is now seven months into fiscal year 1972 and the fiscal year 1973 budget is still on the drawing boards. Chilberg, starting today, will be spending 1 1/2 hours each day on the fiscal year 1974 planning.

He said the reason for the "drastic" change from budget cycles in the past "is to get more detailed information earlier in the year."

Meanwhile, the Idaho Highway Board made a pitch for over $5 million in additional revenue, the equivalent of a 1 1/2 per cent gallon gasoline tax increase.

Charges dropped in Driggs deaths

REXBURG (UPI) — First degree murder charges against Joyce Diane Fry, 22, San Diego, Calif., were dropped Wednesday by the Teton County Prosecutor.

Miss Fry, who has the words "Property of Evil" tattooed across her chest, was charged along with Michael Wren Renspage, 27, Sacramento, Calif., following the gunshots slayings of three Mexican-American farm worker brothers last Aug. 18 near Driggs.

However, a new charge of grand larceny of a car was filed by the prosecution against the woman, who is being held in the Teton County Jail.

Renspage, nicknamed "Evil", pleaded guilty to three counts of second degree murder last week before Judge Willard Burdon.

He was originally charged with three counts of first degree murder in the deaths of Ruben Deluna, 19, Robert Deluna, Jr., 16, and Antonio Deluna, 19.

He was also charged with two counts of attempted murder in the woundings of Richard Deluna, a cousin of the brothers, and Driggs Town Marshal Melvin Jones.

He is being held in the Bonneville County jail awaiting sentencing.

U. of I. gets funds for action project

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Idaho State University has received a grant of $19,933 to finance a university year for the Action program which will enable 25 students to spend a year off campus fighting poverty, Congressman Orval Hansen said today.

Participants are assigned to organizations sponsoring anti-poverty projects in Pocatello and the Fort Hall Indian Reservation.

Fatals up

SEOUL (UPI) — The death rate in traffic accidents in South Korea each year is 68 times that of the United States and 20 times that of Japan, police say.

Wall of smoke

A FIREMAN collapses onto a pile of smoldering lumber after staggering out of a wall of smoke while fighting a fire that did $250,000 damage in south central Los Angeles. The fire, which started in a lumber yard, destroyed two homes and a vacant building. (UPI)

75 cadets implicated in cheating scandal

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI)—Sixteen cadets, banded in their resignations and 60 more were being investigated by classmates Thursday in the Air Force Academy's third cheating scandal in less than a decade. "About 75 cadets have been implicated, but this does not necessarily mean they are guilty," said Col. Arthur S. Ragan, information director at the military school. "The entire investigation was by cadets," he said. "They uncovered it. They are pursuing the investigation and they are sitting on the honor committee judging those that come before them." The others knew about it, but Of the 16 cadets who failed to report it as required, resigned, only three actually by the honor code.

Bombs hit Beirut

By United Press International
Four bombs exploded in the Lebanese capital of Beirut and Israeli soldiers reported they were fired on twice from Syria Thursday. In Cairo, Egyptian students pledged support for the government but demanded the home front be put on a war footing, for the conflict they considered inevitable.
Proof of the bombs in Beirut, apparently set off by terrorists, spread within minutes Thursday. They damaged a newspaper, three American embassies and a shopping center on the fashionable Rue Hamra. The first bomb went off early in the morning in a residential area, but caused no casualties, police said.
The Aviv, Israeli troops on occupied Golan Heights said they were under attack twice Thursday night from Syria but suffered no casualties and did not return the fire. They did not know whether the incidents were initiated by Arab guerrillas or Syrian regulars.

Workers rehired

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain (UPI)—A Spanish manufacturing company said today it will rehire 120 workers and give them a $1-a-month pay raise to save the life of the kidnapped secretary general of the company's board of directors. The executive, Ignacio Zabala, was kidnapped Wednesday by members of the Basque Homeland and Liberty (ETA) group, a Basque nationalist organization. They said Zabala would be executed if the workers refused to participate in an illegal strike. They were not rehired, and even a raise other company workers also got the same raise.

Display

ANTIQUE coffee mills to be put on display at the Twin Falls County Historical Museum are displayed by Mrs. Vena Waggoner, museum operator with her husband, H.F. Waggoner. The mills include the wall model held by Mrs. Waggoner, which sold for 47 cents in the 1890s, and the table model, carrying a price of 25 cents. Historical Society members are asked to bring similar antiques to a meeting set for 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Idaho Power Auditorium.

Rebekah official feted at TF meet

TWIN FALLS — Primrose Rebekah Lodge, No. 78, entertained Mrs. Earl Huff Grangeville, Idaho Assembly president, at a dinner and meeting Wednesday, at the IOOF Temple.

William J. Boyd served as master of ceremonies and introduced several guests including Fran Rider, noble grand of Twin Falls Lodge No. 3, and Kenneth Dameron, vice grand of Lodge No. 23.

entertained by the Madrigal Singers, Twin Falls High School, under the direction of Richard Smack.

At the meeting after the dinner, the introduction committee, Mrs. William J. Boyd and Mrs. Dale Bowman, introduced Mrs. Earl Huff, Mizpah Rebekah Lodge No. 12, Grangeville, Mrs. Margaret Watts, past Idaho president and past president of the International Association of Rebekah Assemblies and presently financial secretary of the World Eye Bank and Visual Research Foundation. She is also a member of the Home Board for Idaho.

Other special guests introduced were William J. Boyd, past grand master and present sovereign grand chaplain; Mrs. Goldie Ridgeway, musician for the Department Association Ladies Auxiliary Patriarch Militant; Mrs. Irene Childers, honor guard, Department Association; Lt. Col. Frank Eastman, sentinel of the Department Council, and Maj. Dale Bowman, grand outside sentinel of the Grand Encampment of Idaho and first and officer of the Department Council.

Other guests welcomed and introduced were Mr. and Mrs. William Breeding, jurisdiction of California.

Mrs. Huff addressed the group and was presented a basket of small red roses and green leaves. The rose is her flower and the leaves will be used in her project.

The hall was decorated with Mrs. Huff's motto prayer and seal, which hung from the ceiling. The owl, her traveling emblem, was used to decorate the room by Mrs. Mae Chatterton and Mrs. Isora Kevan, decorations co-chairmen.

Officers, under the direction of Mrs. Calvin Hoffman, staff captain, presented a drill dedicated to Mrs. Huff.

Mrs. Herman Grabert presented a vocal solo. After introduction of the past noble grand, Mrs. Fran Rider sang Mrs. Huff's religious song.

A tea was held in the dining room after the meeting, under the direction of Mrs. Georgia Martin and Mrs. Gene Smith.

Guests attended from Filer, Boise and Jerome.

Miss Fuller, Taylor exchange promise

TWIN FALLS — Ellen Arline Fuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Fuller, Twin Falls, became the bride of Denis James Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor, Paul, in an evening candlelight service Jan. 8 at the Twin Falls First Baptist Church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. James Hughes with the couple repeating memorized vows. Two gold floor candelabra held orange taper and were accented by orange bows. Baskets of orange and white chrysanthemums flanked the wedding party for the ceremony. Brass candelabra holding orange tapers were decorated with evergreen as they lit all sanctuary windows.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a white floor-length gown fashioned with a square neckline trimmed in floral lace. The gown was enhanced with long puffed sleeves terminating in wide fitted cuffs fastened at the wrists with tiny tailored buttons. The crepe gown featured a flowing sheer overlay bordered with floral lace down both front sides and around the skirt.

Cascading from the bride's shoulders was a long bridal illusion train trimmed in floral scalloped lace to match the dress and overlay. The shoulder-length, two-tiered veil of bridal illusion, worn by the bride's sister, Mrs. Jon Wells, in her wedding, was held by her pearl and rhinestone crown. The only jewelry worn by the bride was a locket worn by her mother for her wedding and by the bride's sister, Mrs. Wells, at her wedding.

The gown was designed by the bride and her mother and made by her mother.

The bride carried a nosegay of orange and white carnations and white roses enhanced with orange streamers. As she walked down the aisle, the bride paused to present her mother a rose from her bridal bouquet.

After the ceremony, the couple presented a rose to the bridegroom's mother during the recessional.

Eva Fuller, Mountain Home, and Mrs. Jon Wells, Twin Falls, served as maid and matron of honor, respectively, for their sister. Bridesmaids were Darla Hasselstrom, Paul, and Mrs. David Sommers, Twin Falls, friends of the couple. Mike Taylor, Paul, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Rob Taylor, Paul, brother of the bridegroom; Kyle Fuller, Twin Falls, brother of the bride, and Jon Wells, Twin Falls, brother-in-law of the bride.

Taper lighters were Marie Garrison, Twin Falls, and Denise Young, Rupert, friends of the couple. Teresa Cole, Twin Falls, received gifts while Donna Ustick, Twin Falls, attended the guest register.

Kathy Brackett, longtime friend of the bride, was soloist while Mrs. Fran Rider played the organ.

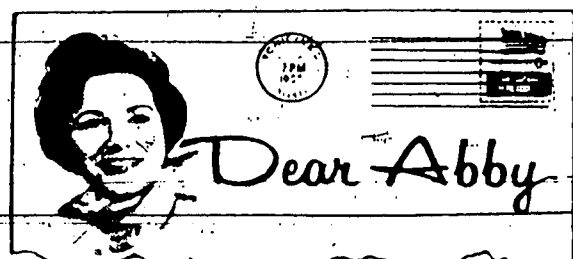

A reception for 200 guests was held in the church fellowship hall after the ceremony. The bride's table was adorned with a white nylon skirt accented with orange carnations and greenery. The four-tiered square cake was decorated white with multi-colored orange daisies and topped with Wedding Bells.

The cake was flanked by two smaller matching heart-shaped cakes bearing the names of the bride and bridegroom. Serving the bride's cake were Lois Matheson, Burley, and Merle Matheson, Paul. Mrs. Earl Walker, Twin Falls, and Mrs. J. L. Eaton, George, Wash., aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Wes Beeson, served coffee and punch. The orange butter mints were made by the bride, her mother and her sister, Mrs. Wells. Orange candles, made by Mrs. Wells, were arranged in fresh greenery by the bride's mother for the guest tables.

Guests attended from Washington, Kansas and surrounding Magic Valley towns.

Miscellaneous showers were given for the bride by fellow employees at Hazel Del Manor and by Mrs. Glen Davis and Mrs. Rod Davis.

The couple took a honeymoon trip to Sun Valley before moving to Pocatello where the bridegroom is completing his junior year at Idaho State University. The bridegroom is employed by Saga Foods, Inc., and the bride is to be employed in nursing. They reside at 1935 5th Ave. S., Box 13B, Pocatello, Idaho 83201.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Our son, age 19, lives at home and goes to a local college. Dick is a good boy and well liked. He's the youngest of six children and we live in a large home with five bedrooms.

Nearly every night we have one or more of Dick's, but they stay here. Some just ring the bell whether Dick is home or not and we have welcomed them.

But how about couples? They always say they're married. We love our son and want his friends to be welcome here but we don't want our home turned into a motel substitute, and we certainly don't want unmarried kids sleeping together on our premises.

DICK'S FOLKS

DEAR ABBY: Married couples (unless they are visiting from out of town) shouldn't have to bed down at your place. I am sure that you shouldn't provide sleeping quarters for couples whose marital status is in question.

DEAR ABBY: I am planning my wedding and my mother is giving me a hard time. She doesn't like the wording on my wedding invitation because her name is not on it, but my father's is.

My mother and father are divorced and my father is giving me a hard time. He doesn't like the wording on my wedding invitation because her name is not on it, but my father's is.

WEDDING WIFE

DEAR ABBY: No. In the case of divorced parents, it's not OK, when the bride lives with either parent. And since you don't live with either parent, it would be less awkward to use BOTH their names on the wedding invitation or neither.

$600 goal set by Lincoln County

SHOSHONE — The Lincoln County Heart Association has set a goal of over $600, Hagfeld Casper, Heart Fund campaign chairman, announced.

The canvass will be conducted beginning with the second week in February and running through the remainder of that month.

Heart disease is responsible for more than 54 per cent of the deaths in this country, Casper said.

This disease claims more than a million lives, striking men and women of all ages and heart attacks claim alone more than 674,000 persons a year, he said.

Current statistics also reveal that one out of eight Americans suffers from some form of heart and blood vessel disease, the chairman added.

However, since 1950 there has been a decline of about 18 per cent in the death rate from heart and blood vessel diseases for persons below the age of 65, Casper said. Feb. 27 is considered Heart Sunday and two million volunteers throughout the nation will visit friends and neighbors to distribute heart-saving information and collect funds to support the Heart Association's vital work.

Newlyweds honored at open house

SHOSHONE — Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Craig Harris were honored at open house from 7 to 9 p.m. Jan. 15 at the Shoshone LDS Church Recreation Hall.

Guests were received by the wedding party in a barge and white setting. Quartet tables were centered with floral floats and a basket of flowers placed on the backround of the bride's table, which was decorated with a lace cover and flourish.

Sister of the bridegroom, Christine Harris, Shoshone, registered guests. Mark Harris, a brother of the bridegroom, was in charge of the gifts and the gift table was under the direction of Mrs. Fred Trenkle, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Kenneth Knowles.

Serving were Mrs. Keith Jackson, Mrs. Perry Hadlock, Mrs. Virginia Larsen, Mrs. Frank Garrett and Mrs. Douglas Hartson.

The couple was married in rites at the Cole Community Church, Boise.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dev. Herman, Boise, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Harris, Shoshone.

Guests for the open house attended from Utah, Jerome, Twin Falls, Nampa, Idaho Falls and Lincoln County.

The bridegroom is employed for the Buddy Mobile Homes, Boise, and the bride is employed at the Anderson Arrow Head Carpeting Co., Boise.

Jerome barracks, auxiliary meet

TWIN FALLS — A ham dinner was held preceding the January meeting Tuesday of the Jerome Barracks and Auxiliary World War I Veterans of the American Legion Hall.

Guests introduced during the dinner were Dean Holt, Harterman department, adjutant; W. F. McCulloch, Twin Falls, Spanish War Veteran; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chelene, Gooding, husband and wife team of Department Deputy VAVS chairman for Districts No. 5, 6 and 7 of World War I Veterans; Morley Gould, Twin Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. John Toupin, Jerome.

Gould and Toupin were accepted as new members of the barracks during the separate business sessions. A total of 78 barracks members was reported, topping the quota assigned by the national organization.

The auxiliary accepted Mrs. Anna Toupin as a new member.

A donation for the Easter party at the Boise Veterans Hospital was approved. A cash donation to the auxiliary from Lottie Bell, Jerome, was accepted.

Club names annual queen

TWIN FALLS — Viola Coontz was named KOPS queen for 1971 and club queen with a loss of 61 pounds during a crowning ceremony this week of the TOPS Idaho Chapter No. 33.

Mrs. Coontz was crowned by Sharon Debban, club president, and presented a trophy and a dozen red roses. "The real battle is still ahead, just trying to keep off the weight lost," Mrs. Coontz said.

Perfect attendance awards for the year went to Vonda Wagner and Jlene Lapray. Ten women received perfect attendance awards for three months. The Storks Club queen honor went to Sharon Debban. The doctor allowed Mrs. Debban to gain 20 pounds and she had a loss of 8 pounds.

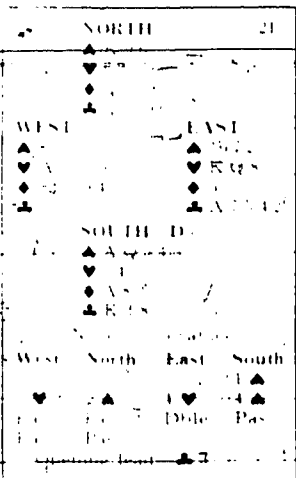

Division No. 4 queen for three months is Arlene Robbins, with a loss of 6 pounds, with Lueanne Baker named runner-up with a 4½ pound loss. Ten-pound charms went to Mary Powell and Marie Whelan and two went to Christine Prior.

Program chairman was Nancy Wormsaker, with Rae Brenda Overman and Marie Whelan participating. Joy Mae Strong was in charge of decorations. Minerva Smith received honorable mention for being present at all meetings but one.

Hog Goes to Slaughter

The defense would have five tricks in and would be safe at a sixth. Further, South made the trick of playing a low diamond. West would be able to give East a ruff and be set two tricks.

All this was right was waiting there for a modest individual but East was a hog. He wanted to slaughter South and decided to go after a cross ruff.

East returned his five of diamonds.

South didn't say thank you but he was mighty happy. He went right up with the ace of diamonds, drew trumps and proceeded to discard one heart on dummy's fourth club. Then he spread his hand conceding one heart and one diamond.

Scholarship auditions scheduled March 19 in TF

TWIN FALLS — The Idaho Federation of Music Clubs' Scholarship Auditions Committee will hold scholarship auditions Sunday, March 19, at O'Leary Junior High School, Twin Falls. The deadline for application is March 1. Applicants and teachers must be members of the National Federation of Music Clubs and must pay an entry fee of $3 for each category entered. Entrants are to provide their own accompanists and a copy of each selection performed for the judges. Scholarships will be awarded through auditions based on standards reasonably expected of students. Those desiring to attend a school not in the state of Idaho must meet additional requirements for the "School of Your Choice Award." A work from the romantic period not to exceed six or seven minutes must be prepared. Vocal students sing in the original language. In the event of a tie, the student performing the more difficult selections will be named winner. Summer camp scholarships will also be awarded. Entrants may play a selection from the Junior Festival Bulletin, or a classical selection of comparable difficulty of about five minutes in length. Selections must be memorized and the entrant must provide music for the judge as well as the accompanist. Applications and further information are available from Mrs. Donald Youtz, auditions chairman, 795 N. Walnut St., Twin Falls, or Mrs. Trafford Bray, District No. 5 president, 2000 Overland Ave., Burley.

A Lovelier You

OFF-BEAT BEAUTY AIDS

By Mary Sue Miller

When we girls want for a new or improved beauty aid, the word somehow gets around and the wheels start turning to provide it. These products for example are direct results of our cries for help. Automatic lipstick liners, a slim case that houses both new soft color creme lip liner and a super fine sable blend brush. Eliminates hard lines forever. A pretty mouth maker. For the hair, spray-on cream rinse that you comb through and leave on. Gentle enough to use on children but persuasive enough to render your hair tangle-free and shining. A benison. Warm Perfume, a fragrance that warms up the way you do. Thus the scent becomes yours. Its form is a fluffy cream, containing skin emollients as well as famed scents from France. An experience. A face mask — a three-minute foam. Pick-Me-Up. A quickie, as ever was. A mini hairdryer — fits in the hands and does a max of a job on roller sets or free falls. Great for wigs. Big jump! — from head to toe. A much needed boot deodorizer — not an odor mask but a neutralizer. A bootquet. Let me know if you have a pet need. I'll pass the idea along.

Jesus movement rebuke to church

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

The "Jesus movement," which continues to flourish throughout America, is at once a rebuke to and a vindication of the institutional church.

It is a rebuke, because its development and rapid spread, largely outside the framework of established religious bodies, indicates that young people are seeking elsewhere things that should be available to them in regular churches but all too often are not.

These things include a sense of community founded on genuine mutual love; a call to the kind of Christian discipleship which requires service and sacrifice; and, above all, personal experience of the love of God manifested in Jesus and the power of this love to transform human life from a dreary, meaningless struggle into a joyous adventure. Some churches do offer and emphasize these things. But a great many others—especially in the so-called mainline Protestant denominations—have hidden the light of the gospel beneath a basket of activities designed to keep young people harmlessly employed or to utilize their energy for the church's own housekeeping chores.

In Jesus' own metaphor, millions of young people have come to the church seeking the bread of life, and were given instead the stone of self-serving institutionalism. The "Jesus movement" is an expression of their unsatisfied hunger. But ironically it also is a striking justification of the church's existence.

To understand why this is so, we need to remember that the word "church" does not refer primarily to an ecclesiastical organization. It certainly does not refer merely to a building.

From the start, the church was basically a fellowship of people charged with the job of transmitting, across all barriers of time and space, the good news that God has drawn nigh to men in Jesus Christ, and has revealed himself to be gracious, forgiving and loving toward even the most undeserving of us.

The church may have done a woefully inadequate job of proclaiming this message. But with all of its shortcomings, it has kept alive the memory of Jesus. Had it not done so, there would be no "Jesus movement" today.

VICTOR L. BROWN

TF slates conclave Feb. 6

TWIN FALLS — Bishop Victor L. Brown, second counselor in the presiding bishopric of the LDS Church, will speak at the Twin Falls Stake Conference in Twin Falls. Bishop Brown, a native of Cardston, Alberta, Canada, was an airline executive at the time of his appointment to the presiding bishopric in 1961. He is an experienced youth, church and business leader.

The conference session will be held at 10 a.m. Feb. 6 in the stake center, 425 Murray St. N. Lloyd A. Hamilton, stake president, says visitors are welcome.

LDS meet planned

TWIN FALLS — An LDS Stake Conference will be held at the Twin Falls West Stake Tabernacle, 600 Harrison St. at 10 a.m. Sunday.

The theme of the conference is "Teaching the Gospel in the Home and in the Church." Joel V. Tate, stake president, invites all members and visitors to attend.

Family dinner set Sunday

TWIN FALLS — Sunday has been named Family Dinner Sunday at the Nazarene Church, according to Rev. Germe W. Iversen, pastor.

It will designate the start of a monthly friendship day when church families will invite other families to church and home to dinner. Each second Sunday of the month will serve as family dinner Sunday and a sign-up chart will be placed on the church bulletin board to avoid any duplication.

Youth Sunday

TWIN FALLS — Youth Sunday will be observed Jan. 30 and will be marked by special music, a teen-choir and special guest speaker, Bob Sturtevant.

Association at Hansen slates meet

HANSEN — Members of the Hansen Water and Sewer Improvement Association annual stockholders meeting Feb. 22 at 8 p.m. in the Grange building. All persons in the association are urged to attend the meeting. In a board meeting Tuesday night, members discussed the fee policy for persons residing outside of Hansen who wish to join the sewer system.

It was voted by the board to review each out-of-city application on an individual basis and determine a total cost for the customer after the customer's situation has been reviewed. The cost will be stipulated prior to the start of service.

Drug film slated at Rupert

RUPERT — An hour-long film on drug abuse will be shown at 7 p.m. Monday at the Trinity Lutheran Church parish hall in Rupert.

Art Linkletter is featured in the film saving drug misuse "from becoming epidemic and we are likely to lose the very young people who will lead this county in the years to come if we do not join to do something about it."

The film is free and the public is invited, according to Rev. J. L. Mattner.

Nazarene auction still runs

FILER — By popular demand, the Nazarene Church is repeating its "White Elephant" Sunday School auction, which will run until Feb. 20.

Those attending Sunday School may earn tickets toward the auction by attending classes, being on time, bringing an absentee who has missed three times, bringing someone new, bringing the same person the second and third time, and new people who will receive tickets.

The top ticket holders will win prizes. Class teachers are recorded by the church and a white elephant barrel has been placed in the church foyer to receive the items contributed by the donors. W. Iversen, pastor.

Insuring ghettos difficult

NEW YORK — The Federal Baptist Church in Brooklyn's predominantly black Bedford Stuyvesant section was offered only $800,000 in insurance although the pastor and his board were sure the building was worth $3 million.

They turned the problem over to Mrs. Ernesta Bowman Procope, a petite woman who runs probably the largest black owned insurance agency in the country.

Mrs. Procope had a reputation for refusing to follow the line of least resistance, such as tossing ghetto properties into insurance pools at high rates and low coverage. "Ernesta makes her own estimate of the risk," said an insurance authority, "and if she thinks it can be insured in the normal market she gets appraisers out and keeps after them until she gets what she wants."

So Ernesta got Concord Baptist a policy for more than $2 million. She got a $1.2 million policy for Bethany Baptist Church which had the same problem.

CHURCHES

Presbyterians elect officers

TWIN FALLS — New officers of the First United Presbyterian Church of Twin Falls have been elected at October and January congregational meetings.

Those elected to serve on the session are Dr. John McKim, Kenneth Ward, John Bennett, Donald Straker, Mrs. Elbert Tate, Fred Barker and Donald Wike.

CSI request pushed aside by state penitentiary project

By DAVID ESPO

Times News writer

BOISE — The need for new construction at the state penitentiary helped push aside the College of Southern Idaho's request for $2.1 million in state building funds.

The chairman of the Permanent Building Fund Advisory Council, Rep. Emery E. Hedlund, D-St. Maries, said Thursday the council had agreed with Gov. Cecil D. Andrus that the state penitentiary was the state's top current construction need.

That decision, he said, along with a shortage of available funds, contributed to the council's whittling down of educational institutions' building requests.

But Hedlund disagreed with the chief executive's request that the legislature not appropriate funds for any other new projects for the coming fiscal year.

Hedlund said the result of the moratorium would be an eventual "five to seven year gap" in state building until it were lifted and project planning resumed.

In his budget address to the legislature a week ago, Andrus said, "I ask that the legislature not authorize any new projects from the Permanent Building Fund until existing authorizations can be honored. The only possible exception to this recommendation should be for increased emphasis on the new prison construction program."

Hedlund agreed the shift in emphasis to the state penitentiary had been costly to the state's colleges and universities, including CSI.

The Twin Falls school's request for $2.1 million for Phase II construction of a vocational-technical building was dropped from the priority list presented by the council to the legislature.

Hedlund also noted other colleges' requests had been cut for the 1972-1973 fiscal year. The council felt that in the last few years the colleges and schools had received their fair share of building funds," he said.

The penitentiary has priority over education. We've got to get this thing finished and get these people out of there as quickly as we can. This is urgent, we can't take a chance on another riot like last summer."

The council received requests for building totaling over $22.7 million from various agencies. The recommendations it transmitted to the legislature asked for slightly over $4.5 million.

Among the projects dropped, in addition to CSI's request, was a $2.8 million request from Idaho State University for phase II construction for a vocational-technical building and Eastern Idaho Vocational School's building requests for $1.1 million.

One of the projects approved by the council called for $80,000 for paving all 18 armory parking lots across the state. Hedlund said the council received other requests from the military, but limited them to the $80,000 figure.

Flood situation better in valley

The flood situation in Magic Valley improved today, but rain or snow continued to fall in most of the region.

At Jerome flood waters subsided Thursday, but water was rising again today. Crews were busy moving sandbags to them available if needed.

In the West end of Twin Falls County, major road damage has been repaired according to Stan Thompson, Buhl Highway District superintendent. He said Lally Grade, blocked by a rock and dirt slide earlier in the week, is now open.

All washouts on other sections of district roads have been repaired, Thompson said, but roads are still muddy and rough.

Thompson said he had been concerned about the road into Balanced Rock, but that there was only minor washing damage there. He said, however, that waters from Salmon Falls Creek spilled over banks and Wednesday night only restroom tops at Balanced Rock Park were visible above the water.

Roads in Minidoka County were still reported in poor condition today because of frost leaving the ground followed by rain, flooding and warm temperatures.

Minidoka schools reopened Friday, with buses attempting to complete their rounds. Rain was falling there this morning but school officials said they hope to keep classes in-session all day.

Schools were closed there Thursday because of road conditions.

In Cassia County, water is reported receding where fields and some parts of roads were under water Thursday. Several houses were surrounded by water but no serious damage was reported to homes in the area.

In Jerome severe muddy conditions also prevail and Mayor Jack Russell said garbage pickup will be made from the streets instead of alleys until the alleys dry.

Idaho State Highway 24 between Dietrich and Kimama is still closed, but the state highway department at Shoshone reports all other roads open.

Most are wet from rain but in the Fairfield, Willow Creek Summit and Craters of the Moon areas, snow is falling and drifts are reported at the craters.

Leon Grieve, manager of the Big Wood Canal Co., said there is no problem from flooding in the area so far. He said he plans to check a head gate near Richfield today to determine if it is in working order, so it can be opened to divert water into the desert if Little Wood River needs pressure relieved. There was no appreciable rise in the river this morning.

In Twin Falls water also has subsided and no threat was being posed today to homeowners living along the Perrine Coulee.

Paul Reynolds of Reynolds Mortuary, Twin Falls, said the parking lot at the business had been under water earlier in the week and three to four inches of mud had been deposited on grounds. He said a tractor and blade will be used to scrape most of the mud away and the lot will be washed to remove the rest.

Carey youth injured

CAREY — A Carey youth was listed in good condition this morning at the Blaine County Hospital after he accidentally shot himself in the leg late Wednesday afternoon while target practicing.

Larry Shaffer, 17, told a Blaine County Sheriff's deputy that he was alone at home in his backyard, target practicing with a revolver at about 6 p.m. Wednesday. He said that he decided to practice his fast draw, drew the pistol and it fired. Shaffer said that his right leg went out from under him and he could not walk on it.

His sister, Susan Shaffer, 8, telephoned her mother, Mrs. Twilla Shaffer, at work and Mrs. Shaffer came home and took the youth to the hospital by car.

A doctor at the hospital told the deputy the bullet had entered the right leg in the mid-thigh area, had probably hit the thigh bone and glanced down into the knee joint where it lodged and was removed by surgery Wednesday night.

Suit filed over Buhl fatality

TWIN FALLS — The parents of a young man killed in February, 1970, in a traffic accident in western Twin Falls County are seeking $100,000 damages from the owners and driver of the car in which their son was a passenger.

Kenneth and Pearl Lehmann, parents of the victim, Marlin Lehmann, 22, have filed suit against James A. Fritz, Paul Hawkins and William R. Ellison.

The suit alleges that Fritz was driving the car owned by Ellison and Hawkins when it went off Melon Valley road north of Buhl and plunged into Deep Creek, killing the victim.

The suit alleges negligence on the part of the defendants because of faulty brakes on the automobile.

FHA loan OK'd for Hagerman

WASHINGTON, D.C. — U.S. Sen. Len R. Jordan, R-Idaho, was informed Thursday of a $251,000 loan approved by the Farmers Home Administration for the city of Hagerman.

Sen. Jordan said the loan fund will enable the city to install a central-rural water and sewer system. About 224 rural families will be served by the facility.

Ecological meet at St

SUN VALLEY — A two-day environmental forum is scheduled here beginning Thursday.

One of eight being conducted in western states, it is being arranged by the Federation of Rocky Mountain States and the Rocky Mountain Center on Environment. Among 42 participants invited is Dr. R. John Eyre, chairman of the Idaho State university Department of Government.

TF man appears in death case

TWIN FALLS — Harold Gordon Waddell, of Twin Falls, was scheduled to appear in magistrate court in Twin Falls this afternoon on an amended complaint charging voluntary manslaughter in the New Year's Eve death of Robert J. Lee.

Waddell was originally charged with first degree murder. The amended complaint was filed by Prosecutor Leon Smith who said he had received a commitment from the defense attorney indicating the defendant would waive preliminary hearing in magistrate court and his case be bound over to district court where he will enter a plea.

Waddell is charged with firing a gun through the front door of the Blue Front Bar New Year's Eve. The bullet struck and killed Roy J. Lee, 70, who was seated at the bar.

Waddell is represented by the public defender, the law firm of Webb, Pike, Burton and Carlson.

Snowmobile race slated at Hailey

HAILEY — The Sawtooth Snowmobile Club will sponsor two snowmobile races this weekend, according to Joy Wheeler, club secretary.

Both races will be conducted at the Snowmobile Recreation Area west of Rotarian.

A men's individual cross-country race is scheduled to begin about noon Saturday. The 70-mile race will be run in two 35-mile laps with time provided between the laps for refueling. Trophies and cash prizes will be awarded to the winners.

On Sunday the club will sponsor a Western Snowmobile Association sanctioned speed oval race. The race, geared for the professional, will start about 10 a.m. Registration for the event will close at 9:30 a.m. and a drivers' meeting will be conducted prior to the race.

Trophies will be awarded to winners in the stock class and cash prizes, totaling up to $500, will be given to winners in the modified class.

Both days a chuckwagon, serving food and beverages, will be available at the site. And after each racing day, an awards ceremony will be conducted at the Hiawatha Hotel, Hailey.

2 meetings today over spud vote

TWIN FALLS — Two meetings are set today in the Magic Valley for discussion of the potato industry referendum vote coming up in February.

The first meeting will be at 1:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, Twin Falls, and the second at 7:30 p.m. at the Ponderosa Inn, Burley.

Both meetings are being arranged by the Potato Growers of Idaho, according to Tom McClain, Buhl, district PGI promotion chairman.

He said the meetings have been set to help growers and others in the potato industry better understand the referendum for potato market, product research and potato promotion funds.

Doyle Burns, executive director of the National Potato Council, and Merle Anderson, vice president, will be main speakers at the programs.

West Minico's TORCH teen-agers seek funds

PAUL — A group of West Minico Junior High School students, working with the statewide TORCH organization will continue their door-to-door campaign today in the Heyburn-Paul area.

The teens, advised by George MacDonald, special education teacher at West Minico, are seeking to raise funds for education and rehabilitation of handicapped children in the area. The group name is an acronym for "Teens Organized for Retarded Children."

The TORCH campaigners have arranged with a candy supplier to provide the candy, which they will sell in their fund-raising effort. All proceeds will be turned over to the West Minico special education unit to further the educational and recreational goals of the school.

The West Minico TORCH club

sponsor recreational activities each month for 34 handicapped people in the area, giving them a valuable start in preparing for acceptance by the society in which they must live. The handicapped people have learned to roller-skate, dance, and play games with adults. In addition, field trips are scheduled periodically.

The week-long fund-raising effort will conclude Saturday.

McClure addresses Castleford conclave

CASTLEFORD — Members and guests of the Castleford Men's Club were told Thursday night by U.S. Cong. James McClure, R-Idaho, they are living in a state and area free of most of the nation's most serious problems.

Cong. McClure of the First District of Idaho, expressed concern over the trends in highly populated and metropolitan areas in the swelling welfare rolls, the lack of patriotism, and loss of virtues among the citizens.

"In Idaho we still have a pioneering spirit and our people retain their strong virtues of honesty and hard work. In Washington, for example, these are no longer virtues but have long been lost," the congressman said.

He said politicians are largely at fault in providing a poor type of leadership and a leaning toward "phony" and misleading issues.

The speaker said he is glad to be a resident of Idaho and were he not optimistic about hope of overcoming current trends he would prefer to return to the state to fish and hunt.

McClure said the nation must count on areas such as Idaho to produce the strong leadership in its youth.

It will be the young people of such areas as this who will bring about the nation's salvation in the future," he said.

About 180 persons attended the annual Castleford Men's Club banquet including business and community leaders from Twin Falls and Buhl.

Benny Black was installed as new club president succeeding Gale Conner. Other new officers are Don Kramer, vice president; Alan Pierce, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Hill, head usher.

Jennings Pierce was master of ceremonies and special musical entertainment was provided by the Common Taters barbershop quartet from Buhl, and by members of the Magic Valley Dilettante's "Guys and Dolls" cast.

Natural lake

FLOOD waters surround the home of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Adams, 400 South and 200 West, Burley. The family's car sits in the driveway which is covered with water.

Burley club winner told

BURLEY — The blue pencil was awarded to Mrs. Harlow Cheney for best five to seven minute speech during the Burley Toastmistress Club meeting Tuesday at conference room of Unity Light and Power Co.

Other speakers were Mrs. Sarah Mae Hess giving an ice-breaker entitled "Here, I Am Back Again"; and Mrs. Lea Clayton used the title, "Love or Prejudice?"

Toastmistress was Mrs. Wallace Sharples. Speech evaluators were Mrs. Freida Manning, Mrs. Blaine Jensen and Mrs. Ray Guiles. Theme for the evening was "Accent on Progress for 1972".

Opening exercises were directed by Mrs. Spencer Black. Table topics were directed by Mrs. T. Wayne Woodland with Mrs. Sharples selected as table topic winner. Mrs. Black was the timer and Mrs. Guiles was the general evaluator.

Mrs. Walter Povlsen, president, reported she recently attended a Toastmasters Club meeting and was a speaker on their program.

It was announced that the Toastmasters and wives, Toastmistress and husbands have been invited to attend the Feb. 8 no-host dessert meeting at Price's Cafe. Both men and women will participate on the program with the theme to be "My Favorite Candidate".

The annual speech contest will be held March 28 and Mrs. Guiles will serve as the speech contest chairman.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jensen and Mrs. Sharples.

Hospital gift

NEW CIRCLE BED has been delivered to Minidoka Memorial Hospital, Rupert, as the year's project for the Pink Ladies of the hospital. Half of the $1,500 cost already has been paid by the group, with the balance to be raised.

Minidoka Pink Ladies give circle hospital bed

RUPERT — Minidoka Memorial Hospital-Pink Ladies 1972 project, an all electrically operated circle bed, has arrived at the hospital.

Mrs. Norma Pflughoeft, president of the Pink Ladies, presented Ed Richardson, hospital administrator, a check for $750 as the first payment on the $1,500 circle bed. The remainder of the funds will be raised by the women during the year.

The Pink Ladies noted that most of the $750 was raised at the luncheon served at the parish hall last fall and the recent style show.

Rugs, quilts, jewelry, luncheon sets, and many other handmade items are being made by the Pink Ladies and senior citizens in the geriatrics ward. These are for sale with the funds going toward the new bed.

Mrs. Theresa Henschel Christmas Mrs. Genevieve Ryan, hobbies and aquarium programs. Mrs. Workman, publicity and phoning Mrs. Dottie Barton scholarships, all past presidents on rotation basis. Mrs. Mildred Markland three years, Mrs. Verna Mohler, two years, and Mrs. Evelyn Holsinger, one year, and parliamentarian, Mrs. Markland.

New members welcomed were Mrs. Linda Bean and Mrs. Stella Caraway.

Mrs. Mary Crawford and Mrs. Manning were appointed to see if it was possible for a Red Cross First Aid Class to be taught to the Pink Ladies.

It was announced that a tea will be held following the awards presentation in February.

As Richardson thanked the Pink Ladies for the new circle bed he told the women that this type of bed will enable hospital personnel to keep a patient completely immobile, even while attending to his needs.

It is particularly valuable in the case of burns, some chest injuries, fractures, quadriplegics, and stroke patients, in which it is imperative that the patient be kept completely immobile, he said.

Controls removed on small stores

WASHINGTON — UPI — The government's decision to lift price and rent controls from small stores and some apartments proves the administration really doesn't want to control prices, says organized labor.

The AFL-CIO renewed its attack on the administration's Phase II controls Wednesday a few hours after the Cost of Living Council announced the rent and price exemptions — the first major ones since the freeze ended.

AFL-CIO Secretary-Treasurer Lane Kirkland said the council had taken the easy way out "at the expense of workers and consumers."

The controls were lifted from retail firms with less than $100,000 in annual sales; apartments renting for more than $500 a month; and owner-occupied dwellings of four or fewer units plus single family rented dwellings where the landlord owns four or less units.

and where the leases run longer than one month.

In another development, the Pay Board turned down an administration proposal to exempt everyone making $1.90 or less an hour from wage controls. It said people should be allowed to make more than that and still be free of wage control.

NOW WE'RE 200 BILLION DOLLARS STRONG. AND YOU HAVE A STAKE IN IT.

By NORMAN STRUNK, Executive Vice President,
United States Savings and Loan League

Because you are our business.

Ever since the first Savings and Loan Association was founded 140 years ago — we've concentrated on making this country a better place in which to live.

And we grew.

It took us 132 years to reach our first $100 billion in assets — and only eight years to reach the second $100 billion.

In the process, we helped America grow.

We helped make America a nation of homeowners.

Today, we finance over half the homes in the country.

Advance 85% of Savings and Loan resources to home buyers.

This generates new economic activity. New homes mean new stores, schools, roads, factories, jobs.

New salaries, wages, profits in your community.

But it couldn't happen without you. Your confidence in us makes it possible.

Today, we are more strongly than ever committed to keeping America the best-housed nation in the world. Bringing a better standard of living for all Americans.

We're doing a lot for America. We want to do more.

Fish, game unit slates big game hunting dates

BOISE (UPI) — The Idaho Fish and Game Commission Thursday established opening dates for general hunting seasons this fall on deer, elk and black bear.

The commission also set dates for controlled hunts for moose, antelope, bighorn sheep and mountain goat, and archery seasons for deer, elk, black bear, antelope and mountain goat.

The practice of setting opening dates early in the year allows hunters to plan ahead for vacation time to coincide with the start of big game hunting seasons.

Closing dates for the big game hunt will be fixed at a special meeting of the commission in May.

Saturday openings for the fall big game hunts were established again this year, with elk and deer starting dates falling on Sept. 16, Oct. 7, Oct. 21 for the main seasons, and Oct. 28 for the late whitetail deer season in the Panhandle region.

The commission said that 14 units will open for elk and deer hunting in roadless primitive areas on Sept. 16, 34 units will open for elk and deer hunting in more accessible back country on Oct. 7.

The big 36 unit opening in southern Idaho will be Oct. 21, 14 units for both deer and elk, and 22 units for deer only.

Opening dates for controlled moose are Sept. 9 for 23 hunts, and Oct. 7 for nine hunts. Controlled antelope hunting dates are Sept. 2, Sept. 23 and Nov. 4.

Mountain goat opening dates Aug. 3, 5, 8, Sept. 23 and Nov. 18. The number of hunts has been increased, with the addition of two new units, and subdivision of several old units.

General season archery for elk and deer is the same as 1971 except that unit 15 is new for both species, and unit 76 is new for archery elk.

Unit 59 has been closed for archery deer hunting. Black bear is the same as last year, both for general hunting and archery.

Oral Roberts nips ISU 86-85 on shot in last five seconds

POCATELLO (UPI) — Substitution forward Larry Baker followed up a missed shot with five seconds left in the game to give Oral Roberts University of Tulsa a narrow 86-85 win over Idaho State Thursday.

Idaho State had rarely trailed in the contest since midway through the first half. In fact, Baker's basket gave ORU the only lead it enjoyed in the second half.

The Titans lived up to their motto "We run and gun," by firing up 89 shots, some from 30 feet out. But a tight ISU defense held them to 48 per cent from the front. ISU shot 58 per cent but took 47 less shots than ORU. ISU center Evop Fopma almost single-handedly put the Bengals in the locker room at halftime with a 50-46 lead with 20 points scored in the first half.

The Titan defense was considerably tougher in the second half and limited Fopma to six points but his 20 markers were high for the game.

Leading scorer for ORU was guard Richie Fuqua who scored 24 points, 87 below his average. He tallied 51 and 42 in his previous two games.

ORU's second leading rebounding team in the nation, took the battle of the boards from ISU 45-14. Center Eddie Woods had 11 for ORU and

White may make up mind today

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — This should be the day Mike White makes up his mind.

The young assistant coach has been caught in a tug of war between arch-rivals Stanford and California for his services as a head football coach.

White served eight years as an assistant under John Ralston at Stanford and then became the leading candidate to succeed his old boss when Ralston quit two weeks ago to head the NFL Denver Broncos.

After a week of rumors, Ray Willsey quit as coach, under pressure from the administration and alumni, at California and Dave Maggard, leading candidate to become athletic director at Berkeley, immediately sought White's service as head coach at his alma mater. Maggard and White met privately Wednesday to discuss the California job but money apparently is not the problem there. The school is under suspension by the NCAA for playing Isaac Curtis and White presumably asked Maggard what Cal intended to do about the suspension.

One report had Maggard promising White Curtis will never play again and then Cal will appeal to the NCAA to have its suspension lifted.

Utah drops Utah State by 66-59

LOGAN, Utah (UPI) — Forward John Dearman's 17 points and 14 rebounds led the University of Utah to its first road victory of the year, a 66-59 win over Utah State Thursday night.

The Utes, who at one time led by 12 points, had to hold off a second rally that brought the Aggies to within one point, 52-51, with 7:57 remaining.

But the Utags' attack faltered when Glenn Hansen left the game with an injured knee as he dropped in the basket that pulled State to within one point. Hansen scored 12 points in the game.

Forward Scot Jones added 13 points to the Utah attack and guard Eddie Trail tossed up 12 as the Runnin' Redskins hit for 46.6 per cent on the foreign hardwoods.

Utah's sagging zone defense kept the Aggies away from the basket and forced them to take the outside shots. Utah State hit for only 34.3 per cent on their own floor.

Center Lafayette Love topped the Aggies with 17 points. Forward Bob Lauriski had 14. Utah is now 8-5 on the season while independent Utah State is 5-9.

Rockets top Royals 104-87

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Elvin Hayes, Stu Lantz and Calvin Murphy combined for 75 points Thursday night as the Houston Rockets broke a Cincinnati four-game winning streak with a 104-87 victory over the Royals.

Hayes pumped in 10 of his 27 points in the fourth period while the Rockets outscored the cold-shooting Royals, 29-16, to run away with the game.

A layup by Johnny Green with 7:48 remaining in the game tied the score at 82-82 but the Royals were unable to score another point for five minutes and 48 seconds and were down by 14 with two minutes to play.

Executioner wins first in comeback

HALLANDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Executioner, who has been out of competition since being injured and finishing sixth in last year's Preakness, started his comeback bid in winning form Thursday as the four-year-old, Kentucky-bred colt captured the $100,000 allowance feature at Gulfstream Park.

After following the pace set by Bud N. Ree through the first quarter, Executioner moved to the lead and held it to score a 1 1/4-length victory in the seven furlong race. As Bud N. Ree tired near the wire, Barely Once took the advantage and finished second, leaving Bud N. Ree five-lengths farther back in third.

The winner of the Hibiscus and the Flamingo at Hialeah last winter, Executioner returned as an odds-on favorite of the 13,079 patrons. The track was muddy due to the continuing rain, but Executioner still turned in a respectable 1-23 2-9 clocking.

Shoshone defeats Kimberly

KIMBERLY — The Shoshone filled all the weights for the first time this year and defeated the young Kimberly Bulldogs 40-21 in a dual wrestling match.

Results of the matches. Kimberly men listed first, include 101 pounds, Hunt decisioned Heath 6-0; 107 pounds, Murphy pinned by

Owens, Archer start Tucson Open with rounds of 7 under TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — Charles Owens, an ex paratrooper with a stiff left leg and a cross-handed grip, and Los Angeles Open champ George Archer fired seven under par 65s Thursday to share the first round lead in the $150,000 Dean Martin Tucson Open.

Archer and Owens both had eight birdies and one bogey along with nine pars over the 7,200-yard Tucson National golf course.

J. C. Snead, the defending champion, and Lou Graham shared second place with six under par 66s.

Snead had an eagle three on his 15th hole to bring him into second while Graham had identical aines of 33.

Seven golfers headed by Bob Murphy came in at 67, five under par. Besides Murphy they were Jim Jameson, Mike Morley, Chuck Thorpe, Bob Nichols, Herb Hooper and Jack Montgomery.

In at 68, four under par, were Miller Barber, Dale Douglass, Dave Hill, Hale Irwin, Chuck Courtney and Johnny Pott. Courtney made the turn in 31 but took a one over par 37 coming home.

A group of 14 golfers, headed by Fred Marti and Bruce Devlin had 68s.

In all, 63 golfers were at par 72 or under. After Friday's second round the field will be cut to the low 70 and ties for the final two rounds, portions of which will be televised nationally.

Owens came in with his 65 late in the day after Archer shot his 65 while teeing off among the early group.

Owens, who plays out of Winter Haven, Fla., has a fused left knee which he plants on the ground and does not move during a shot. He also shoots cross handed "because that's the way I learned and by the time I found out it was wrong it was too late to change."

White Archer won $147,769 for fourth place last year. Owens, who has been on the tour only two years, ranked 129th with $11,476. Archer said "putting is the name of the game at Tucson and my putter was really working. I hit all my clubs well but my putter was fantastic. I had 12 one putt greens."

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES A wonderful day and evening for you to release various projects and ventures that you want to put in motion. Accept advice from someone who can help you with them now. Your mind is working overtime combining good judgment and accurate hunches. Use them fully.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A day and evening when much can be accomplished, so get an early start. Contact good friends and state your aims. Gain their cooperation. Show that you have wisdom.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) The morning is fine for talking over new arrangements with others, and gathering information you need. The evening should be devoted to the romantic side of life. Be sure to follow your hunches.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) An ideal day to entertain since you are in a congenial frame of mind. State your personal aims to right persons at gathering. Show that you are a thoughtful person.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you demonstrate your finest abilities to bigwigs today, you gain their favor and support. Stop being so self-conscious. Give your support to bigwigs in a civil matter.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have fine ideas that you can put in operation now and add to present success. You also gain the respect of prominent persons. Listen to the suggestions of a good friend.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Respected advisers now can assist you to put your business and personal affairs on a much better basis with substantial support. Please make in a different way tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) A good day to discuss any differences you have with associates and come to a better understanding. This could be troublesome, but well worth it. Take it easy tonight at home.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) You are now free to do the work you enjoy the most and make much progress. Later take those treatments you need to feel fit. Show particular concern for kin tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You want to enjoy recreations and can do so with ease since the planets are favorable for such. Join with those who are truly congenial. Avoid quarrelsome persons.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can do something today to get situation much improved at home. You have new interests to work on that can become a real success in the future. Have fun with kin tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't neglect to do your shopping, writing letters and handling a transportation problem. If you are active you can improve your life considerably. Relax tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) An idea day to talk over your practical financial ambitions with experts and get the right advice. A good time to study future plans. Don't lose your temper in the evening.

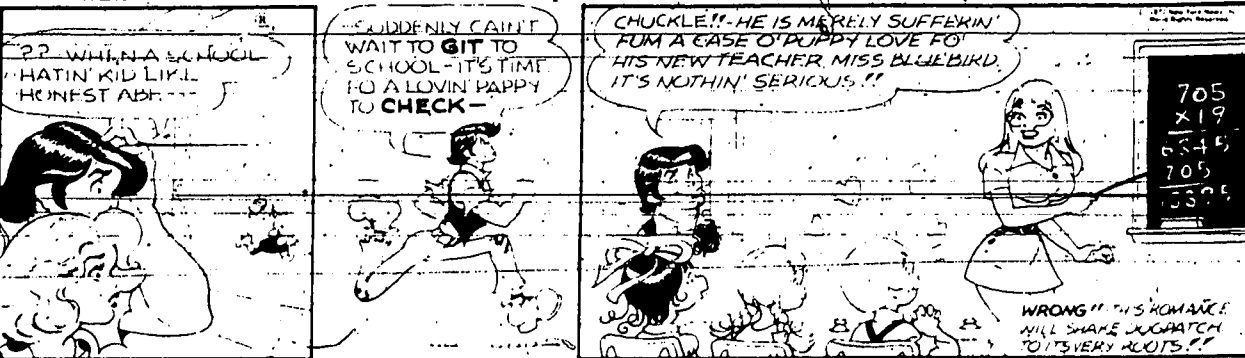

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... She will be one of those delightful young people who has many ideas and talents. Teach early to figure out what is the real forte and direct the education along such lines. Your youngster will have to learn to compete whatever has been started otherwise "very little" will be accomplished. If high school lifetime. A college education is a must here since the mind is a fine one if properly trained.

The Stars impel they do not compel. What is the course of your life is largely up to you.

Origin Of 'Cocktail'

"History is indeed little more than the register of crimes, follies and misfortunes of mankind."

Maybe you didn't know these bits of history: 1. That Delaware was once owned by Sweden. 2. That Thomas Jefferson was the first president to wear long trousers. 3. That Betsy Flanagan, barmaid at Halls Corners, Elmsford, N. Y., in 1776, originated the "cocktail" by putting a feather in a mixed drink.

AM-ASKED why the incidence of kidney stone ailments is far higher in Florida and Southern California than elsewhere. Matter of age and money, no? People old enough to retire and rich enough to enjoy it make dandy candidates for kidney stones, say the medicos.

RETIREMENT

That seasoned citizen contemplating retirement might give some thought to the great Benjamin Franklin. After his retirement from business, he put in 42 more years in the public service.

EGYPTIAN sphinxes were sculptured with heads of women. Assyrian sphinxes were sculptured with the heads of men. I don't know why.

A DETECTIVE reports it's easier to trace a roll of exposed film to the camera that shot it than to trace a bullet to the gun that fired it.

That you and I are taller and heavier than our folks, generally speaking, is known. And that our sons and daughters, likewise generally speaking, are taller and heavier than we, that's also known. Therefore, it's odd, is it not, that the size of the average man's hat appears to remain unchanged from generation to generation? Size 7 1/2. Size of the average man's belt has increased considerably please note.

-IN AFRICA, what's the most dangerous of all the animals, when wounded? The big game boys say it's the leopard. It's not unusual, they say, for a wounded leopard first to vanish, then to turn and stalk, finally to attack the man who shot it.

QUERIES

A. "Do you play golf, Louis?"

A. No, sir, gave it up last time out — that was in Seattle — I happened to drop the innocent remark, "Don't seem to be playing my usual game today." And the caddy said, "What game do you usually play, mister?" That did it.

Q. "I'M EXPECTING. Have already had three girls in a row. What are the odds our fourth baby will be a girl, too?"

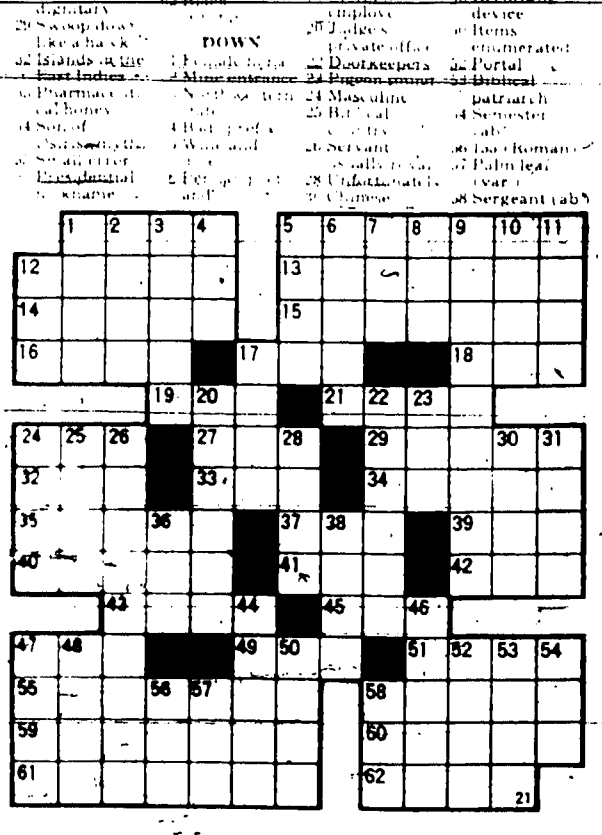

A. Not quite 50-50. But your three girls don't have anything to do with that. It's just that more boy babies than girl babies are born every day.

SNOW Conditions

TWIN FALLS - Wet heavy snow fall has dampened the skiing outlook for the coming week and with skiers hoping for colder temperatures. Resorts report new snow ranging from one inch to two feet and most roads are open but snow tires or chains are required.

MAGIC MOUNTAIN

SOLDIER MNT.

POMERELLE

SUN VALLEY

ROTO-RUN

Magic Mountain reports two feet of new heavy snow with total depths remaining between seven and eight feet. The road was cleared Thursday and is in good condition but snow tires or chains are recommended. Intermediates and beginners will be packed for the week and buses leave both Saturday and Sunday from Lynwood Shopping center at 9 a.m.

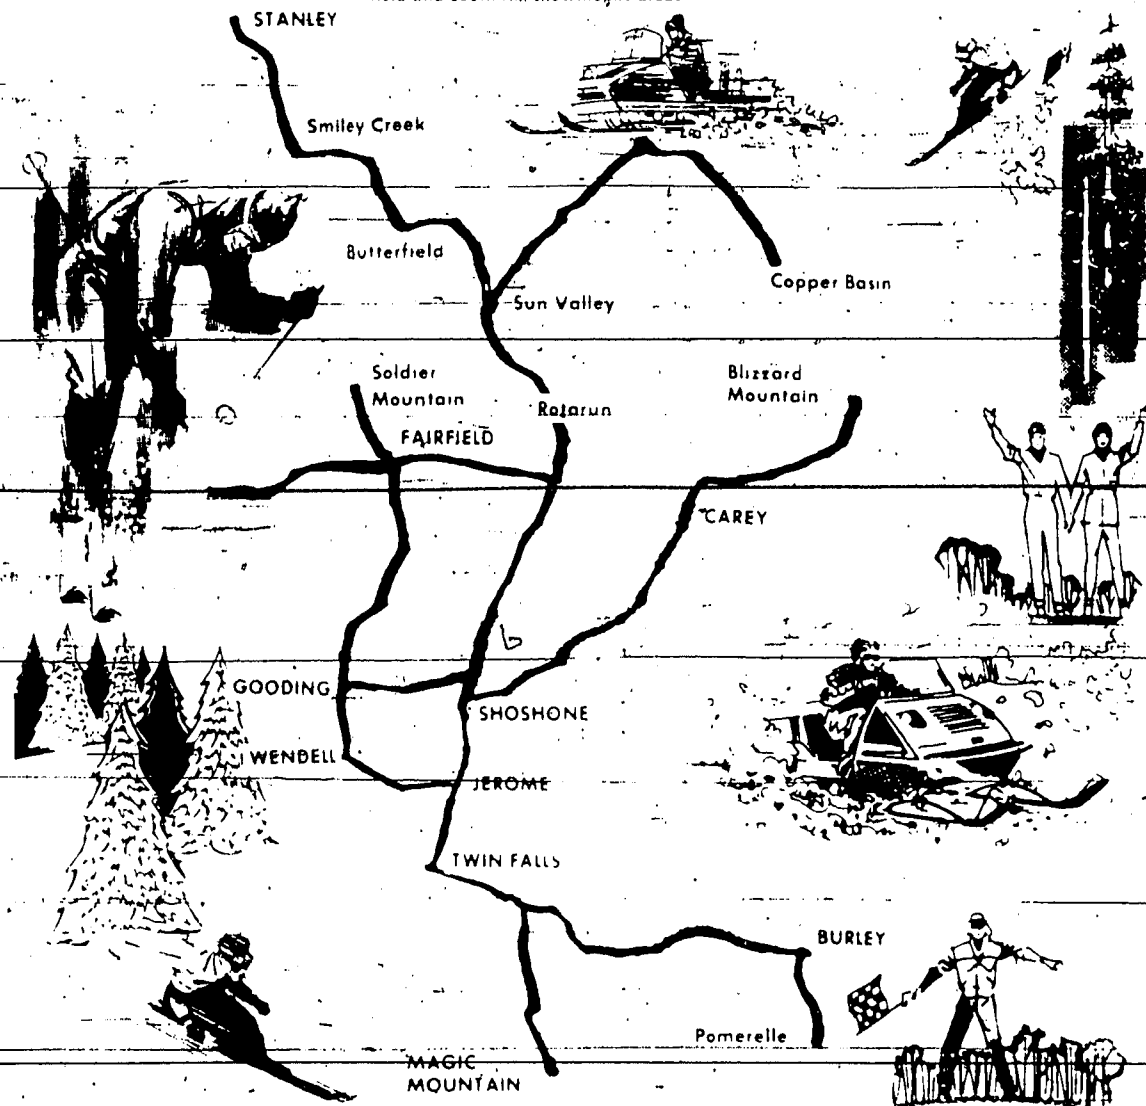

Soldier Mountain now reports total depths at 44 inches at the top of ski runs and 38 inches at the bottom with only a shift of new snow. Rain was falling Thursday in Fairfield and snow at the ski resort. Temperatures were between 25 and 35 degrees. The road was reported in good condition but snow tires are required. The area operates Thursday through Sunday.

Pomerelle lists two feet of heavy snow this week with a base of six feet and between eight and ten feet at the top of the ski runs. The road is open but with one-way traffic in some sections. Snow tires or chains are required. Some runs are packed and some are not. Winds are about five miles per hour at the top of the slopes.

Sun Valley has 5 1/2 inches of snow at the top of Baldy Mountain and 35 inches at the Roundhouse. The Valley floor has 20 inches. About three inches of new snow has fallen this week. The road is good with some icy spots and continued snow and rain are anticipated for the next several days. All runs and bowls are now open.

Roto-run snow depths are now about 20 inches with one inch of new snow. Temperatures are between 30 and 35 degrees and the road is good but with some icy spots. The area operates Saturday and Sunday and on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 to 10 p.m.

Snowmobiling is listed as good in the Ketchum and Hailey areas and only fair in the Fairfield and South Hill snowmobile areas.
